Short Distance Apart

Soviet's 2 Cosmonauts Continue Space Flights

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's space team was reported continuing its group flight around the earth late today.

Radio Moscow announced in a 5 p.m. news broadcast that the two newest Soviet astronauts—one already aloft three days and the other two days—remained in orbit.

In a joint message, the two said, "We are but a short distance apart from each other and we have established dependable communications with each other."

Their message also asserted the outlined flight program will be carried out fully.

But there wasn't any official indication how long the program would last.

The report said both men feel fine and that their equipment is functioning perfectly.

The radio said that at 4 p.m. Maj. Andrian (Falcon) Nikolayev had completed 52 orbits and Lt. Col. Pavel (Golden Eagle) Popovich 36.

Moscow's central television station broadcast at 4:10 p.m. what it claimed was a direct television transmission from Vostok III, piloted by Nikolayev.

The announcer pointed to a port-hole of the Vostok III and said that, through it, it was possible to see Vostok IV, carrying Lt. Col. Pavel (Golden Eagle) Popovich.

This would indicate the two space ships, launched a day apart on almost identical orbits, were still close together. Western trackers have said the two ships now are several hundred miles apart after being as close as 75 miles.

A good time for the landing supposedly would have been about 2:30 p.m., when Vostok III would have been over the central Volga valley where other globe-circling Soviet ships have come down.

Nikolayev completed his third day in orbit at 11:30 a.m. and Popovich finished his second day aloft at 11:02 a.m.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, announced that by noon Nikolayev had completed his 49th orbit and had traveled about 1.25 million miles.

Popovich, Tass said, had completed 33 orbits for a total of about 870,000 miles.

Throughout the day here there was speculation that the two ships might be brought down, although the talk was loaded with uncertainty. A television broadcast

Monday night reported coming directly from Vostok III appeared to indicate the flights were going on and on.

A Soviet informant said something interesting would happen in the afternoon—Moscow is 8 hours ahead of Eastern Standard Time—when both astronauts may be in a position to descend.

The day's first communique at 6 a.m. contained a variation that might signal something special was planned today—a landing, a close approach or even a linkup of the spaceships.

Omitting the usual signoff of "the flight continues," the communique said: "At present, the cosmonauts have started carrying out their numerous difficult duties envisaged by the program of space research planned for Aug. 14. The group flight of spaceships Vostok III and Vostok IV continues according to the planned program."

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope, told reporters Monday night: "I would not be surprised if both men came down in one craft and left the other craft in orbit. We believe either the space-men now are both together or are extremely close to each other."

Immediate Cut Rejected President Slates Jan. 1 As Time For Tax Slash

Fears Cut Now Would Boomerang

Will Call Congress Back If Indication Points To Recession

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, rejecting an immediate tax cut as an economic weapon that might boomerang, has set his sights on multibillion-dollar reductions and tax reform for 1963.

But he told a nationwide television-radio audience Monday night that if the unexpected happens—that if the nation slides toward recession later this year—he will call Congress into special session to lighten the "far too heavy" tax burden.

He described the present tax system as "a drag on economic recovery and economic growth, biting heavily into the purchasing power of every taxpayer and every consumer."

A number of Democrats in Congress applauded his speech. A number of Republicans accused him of playing election-year politics. They emphasized a favorite GOP theme that slashes in government spending should accompany tax reductions.

This theme was also stressed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He said that when Kennedy submits his tax measure, and his budget, next year "he will have an opportunity to indicate whether he plans to reduce expenditures or pay for a tax cut with borrowed money."

Kennedy was serious of mien and smiling as, with the aid of specially prepared charts, he developed a two-fold thesis:

That the nation has bounced back a long way from the recession he said held sway when his term began in January, 1961.

That it still has a considerable distance to go to attain full employment and booming production. Compared to the economic growth of Western Europe and Japan, he said, "We have been more or less standing still for five years."

But this is the wrong time to

Murder Case Hearing Set

Beaver Suspect To Ask Jail Release

BEAVER — A hearing on a habeas corpus petition filed by counsel for Carroll Williams, accused slayer of a 23-year-old mother of two small children, has been scheduled Friday morning in Beaver County Court.

Attempting to force the prosecution's hand, the defense requests the state either to free Williams or to present its case against him now.

Judge Robert E. McCreary postponed the hearing Monday after Ronald Lench, assistant district attorney, told the court the state will not know the exact cause of the death of Mrs. Lauretta Dean Schultz until it receives a report from the State Police Crime Laboratory in Harrisburg. The report is expected about Wednesday or Thursday, he said.

Atty. John A. Conte of Baden, Williams' counsel, took the unusual course of trying to force the state to show why it is holding Williams. The accused slayer was held for the Grand Jury last week.

Coroner John Colavincenzo reported Mrs. Schultz apparently had been strangled July 31.

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania State Police are seeking a white 1951 Buick registered in the name of Robert Shaw, which was stolen July 14 in Hamet, Calif. The car is believed to be connected with the Schultz slaying, they said.

Peace Fight Will Be Won, Rusk Asserts

Freedom For All Mankind U.S. Aim, VFW Meeting Told

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—"We intend to win—and we are going to win. Our objective is victory for all mankind," Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Monday night in reply to charges that the Kennedy administration is pursuing a "no win" foreign policy.

"The global struggle for freedom against Communist imperialism is our main business in the State Department," Rusk told the 63rd annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"This struggle will continue until freedom prevails. It goes without saying that our purpose is to win."

Rusk termed the present world one of turmoil and change and said the primary cause of danger to the United States "is the existence of powerful forces which are determined to destroy our free way of life."

But the secretary said he found encouraging signs in the West's fight. He cited improvements in Western Europe, economic and otherwise, and sharp differences which have developed within the Communist bloc.

"The notion that we in America somehow resent or regret this new vitality and confidence in Europe is plain nonsense," said Rusk.

"We applaud results thus far and warmly support the prospects for an even stronger and more unified Europe."

Rusk called the Berlin wall, erected a year ago Monday, a monument to the failure of "competitive co-existence" that dared not compete.

"Successful societies do not have to build walls and string barbed wire against their own people," he said.

In improving its own military position, Rusk said, this nation seeks to show its adversaries that any resort to force would be not only unprofitable but dangerous.

Referring to an improved capacity for dealing with guerrilla warfare, such as is now in South Viet Nam, Rusk said: "It will not be allowed to succeed."

Fire-Damaged Plant Cleanup Is Speeded

WASHINGTONVILLE — Cleanup work is being spurred at the fire-damaged W. M. Co. today in hopes of resuming partial production at the plant hit by a $50,000 blaze Sunday.

William Radler, president, said employees are working on a 16-hour daily basis in order to resume output of a special part for Whirlpool of Macheson.

Whirlpool said the plant at Clyde, Ohio, cannot get back into operation Friday, the washer firm may have to shut down, forcing layoffs for some 2,900 workers there, he said.

Inspection was slated today of a $30,000 boring and finishing machine to determine if it had been seriously damaged.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, shown in his office at the White House Monday night, points to charts moments before his nationwide radio-television report on the nation's economy. Kennedy said that July economic figures indicate there is no danger of a recession this year and rejected an immediate cut in taxes. (UPI Telephoto)

Beaver Board Hires 9 For Faculty Posts

Resignations Of 5 Accepted; One Post Continues Vacant

Nine new teachers were hired by the Beaver Local School District Board of Education at a meeting Monday night. Resignations of five instructors were accepted.

Hired were Wayne Hunter and Miss Abbie Harris of East Liverpool to teach at the Public School, Mrs. Polly Davies of Calcutta to teach French at the Public School, Robert Craig of near Cleveland to teach English at the high school.

Bruce Roush of Pleasant Heights to teach at West Point School, Norman Eugene Allison of New Cumberland to teach industrial arts at the high school, Mrs. Evelyn Bibbee of Appes Corners to teach at the Public School, Robert Sprague of Greenford, to teach instrumental music for elementary students, and Mrs. Linda Costanzo of near Elkhart to be high school librarian.

George VanHorne, executive head, said a commercial teacher still is needed to complete the faculty for next term.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Lucille Hallom and Mrs. Ramona Campbell of the Public School, Mrs. Donna Campbell of the Calcutta School, and Harry Criss and Mrs. Olive McBride of the high school.

A year's leave of absence was granted Miss Martha Finney of the Public School.

VanHorne said the new additions at the Rogers and Calcutta Schools and high school will be

Spy Stalls British Bid To Send Him To U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Robert A. Soblen stalled off today for at least eight more days a British government attempt to send him back to the United States to serve a life sentence for spying for the Soviet Union.

Britain's High Court recessed until Aug. 22 after hearing attorneys for the runaway spy pleaded that he should be allowed to go to a country of his own choice, such as Communist Czechoslovakia. Further arguments will be resumed then.

National Campaign

35-Hour Week Eyed By Labor

CHICAGO (AP)—Organized labor has revealed its primary weapon in the battle for full employment will be a national campaign for a 35-hour work week.

AFL-CIO President George Meany announced Monday a drive to require double-time pay for hours worked in excess of 35 a week. He termed the shorter work week "a national necessity."

The federation represents more than 14 million of the 65 million national work force.

The federation's Executive Council formulated a two-prong attack on the unemployment problem at the opening of its five-day summer session.

It established a committee to draft new legislation which will be presented to Congress next year. It set up a task force within the federation to aid affiliated unions in bargaining for the 35-hour work week without loss in pay.

Meany told a news conference the proposed double-time pay for keeping a man on the job beyond 35 hours is calculated to make it economically necessary for employers to enlist additional manpower.

"All other attempts to deal effectively with unemployment have failed," he said. "We feel a shorter week will take up considerable slack in the unemployment picture. If we had it now, there wouldn't be very many unemployed."

Meany said the change would be much less inflationary than many persons think.

"We've had this bugaboo of inflation with us for a long time now," he said. "There are problems, but the country's biggest problem is to get people back to work, and that's what we're dealing with."

President Kennedy's administration has consistently opposed shortening the work week on the grounds the nation cannot stand a cutback in effort or a sharp boost in labor costs in its space age competition with the Communist world.

Meany said Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg will meet with the Executive Council Wednesday to discuss the 35-hour work week demand.

Defeated Four Years Ago

Elkrun Township Vote Due On Liquor By Drink

A petition was filed today with the County Election Board asking a vote in Elkrun Township at the Nov. 6 general election on a proposition to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink — a plan rejected by a resounding vote four years ago.

The petition contains 95 signatures, well over the minimum required by state law for such a proposition. The signature requirement is based on 15 per cent of the vote cast for governor in the township in the 1958 election. The circulator was identified as Mrs. Gladys Konkle.

The township now has one tavern, located along Route 7, which is permitted to sell beer and wine. Sale of whisky has been outlawed in the area since the township voted against the repeal of national prohibition in 1933, Frank

R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Election Board, explained.

In a vote on the liquor question in the November 1958 general election, the proposal was rejected, 188 to 328. Election Board records show. A majority vote will decide the issue.

The township has three precincts, Elkrun, Signal and South-west. It lies immediately east of Center Township and Lisbon.

The petition is one of a series on which the Election Board will act at a meeting this afternoon at 3:30. Thirteen special questions and issues have been filed so far for the November ballot.

The board also will determine the sufficiency of five petitions filed before the deadline last Wednesday by candidates for County Court judge. Four entered for two

School Heads To Get Raises At Wellsville

Board To Place New Levy On Ballot; 2 Teachers Employed

A new salary schedule for administrative personnel was adopted by the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night.

The board also voted to place a new operating levy on the fall ballot, hired two new teachers and approved establishment of an adult education class.

The new salary schedule will provide varying increases for the administrators and will cost approximately $3,000 a year.

The schedule will provide a better differential between the salaries of the teachers and the administrators in each building, the board said.

It calls for the school heads to receive the maximum salary paid a teacher with the same amount of formal education, plus varying percentages. It is as follows:

High school principal, maximum salary plus 40 to 50 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year; assistant high school principal, plus 5 to 10 per cent per year; junior high and elementary principal, plus 15 to 25 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year; elementary principal and bus supervisor, plus 15 to 25 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year; elementary principal, plus 5 to 10 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year; assistant to the principal, plus 5 to 15 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year.

Supt. Lowell Myers pointed out that in the case of the high school principal, it will mean an increase of about $500 a year. The new schedule will be effective Sept. 1.

He said that when the teachers receive any future increases, the administrators' salaries then can be based on the percentage scale.

Previous discussion on a new operating levy was conducted when the board voted to submit a 5-mill levy on the November ballot for 10 years. It was pointed out this will be reduced to approximately 4.5 mills when the new property valuation is effective.

The board agreed the levy is needed to keep up with general operating increases. William Ferrell, board member, pointed out

Soviet Protests Loom

West Berliners Attack Red Wall

BERLIN (AP) — The Western powers expected strong Soviet protests and new threats today following West Berliners' attacks on the Red wall and Russian vehicles during the first anniversary of the barricade.

Rioting crowds hurled paving blocks and curses Monday night at the barricade which was begun a year ago and now divides Berlin with stone, steel, barbed wire and military fortifications.

Reinforced West German police repeatedly drove wildly screaming demonstrators back from the wall, which has become a symbol of West Berlin's isolation and the Communist repression in East Germany.

One crowd, frustrated in its attempts to reach the wall, surrounded three Soviet army vehicles near Checkpoint Charlie in the U.S. sector. The soldiers were returning from guard duty at the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin.

The angry demonstrators hurled stones and beer bottles, smashing the windows of a bus. Youths closed in on two sedans shouting "pigs" and "dirty bums." West German police finally freed the Soviet vehicles.

Brig. Gen. Frederick O. Hartel, U.S. troop commander in Berlin, went to Checkpoint Charlie to investigate the attack.

West Berlin Police Commissioner Erich Duensing said about 2,000 West Berliners stoned his men along the wall in the Bernauerstrasse area, three miles north of the trouble near Checkpoint Charlie.

Newsmen at the scene said the stones appeared to be aimed at East German police beyond the wall, but that some struck West police cars blocking the way to the wall. West police finally scattered the rioters with a water cannon.

Earlier in the day East and West police hurled hundreds of tear gas grenades across the border at Wilhelmstrasse after an East German water cannon drenched youthful West Berlin marchers.

West Berlin officials had urged a quiet observance of the day, including three minutes of silence at noon to be broken only by the tolling of the Freedom Bell, a replica of the American Liberty Bell. West Berliners drowned out most of the bell's peals with blaring auto horns.

Both sides of the border were heavily patrolled, by the West to prevent violence that could lead to an East-West shooting scrape and by the East to halt attempts to escape or to destroy parts of the wall.

Home Owners On 3 Streets Ask Projects

Property owners on three streets have turned in petitions along with certified checks for a low-cost street surfacing program proposed by City Council.

The streets include Idaho Ave. between Belmar and Sanford Sts., Union St. from Pennsylvania Ave. to Holliday St., and Hart Alley from Wedgewood Ave. to Andrews Pl.

Property owners on Trentvale St. also have submitted a petition but the certified check still is to be received.

The contract for the low-cost surfacing has been awarded to the Ohio Tar & Asphalt, Inc., of Canton on its bid of 35 cents a square yard amounting to approximately 17 1/2 cents per lineal foot for a street 18 feet wide.

The Stark County firm's bid amounts to 70 cents a running foot for an 18-foot wide street but with the city sharing the cost it reduces the property owners' share to 35 cents.

Because the cost is based on frontage on both sides of a street, the cost is reduced to roughly 17 1/2 cents a foot for one side.

Council appropriated $4,000 from the income tax revenue to pay the city's share for surfacing two miles of dirt streets. If response warrants, Council indicated it would appropriate an additional $4,000 to expand the program to treat up to eight miles of unsurfaced streets.

Property owners desiring to participate must obtain signatures on a petition, collect the money and have a certified check made payable to Ohio Tar.

The petition and check then are turned in to Safety - Service Director Robert Owen's office. When the work is done to the city's satisfaction, the certified check along with matching funds from the city will be paid to the Stark County firm.

The low-cost surfacing program calls for three applications of liquid asphalt along with slag or other aggregate for a binder.

President Requests More Welfare Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has asked for nearly $600 million in new appropriations, more than half of it to pay for increased costs of the new public welfare law.

In his request to Congress Monday the President asked $306.5 million to finance increased grants to the states for public assistance under the new welfare act.

Fears Cut Now Would Boomerang

Will Call Congress Back If Indication Points To Recession

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, rejecting an immediate tax cut as an economic weapon that might boomerang, has set his sights on multibillion-dollar reductions and tax reform for 1963.

But he told a nationwide television-radio audience Monday night that if the unexpected happens—that if the nation slides toward recession later this year—he will call Congress into special session to lighten the "far too heavy" tax burden.

He described the present tax system as "a drag on economic recovery and economic growth, biting heavily into the purchasing power of every taxpayer and every consumer."

A number of Democrats in Congress applauded his speech. A number of Republicans accused him of playing election-year politics. He emphasized a favorite GOP theme that slashes in government spending should accompany tax reductions.

Murder Case Hearing Set

Beaver Suspect To Ask Jail Release

BEAVER — A hearing on a habeas corpus petition filed by counsel for Carroll Williams, accused slayer of a 23-year-old mother of two small children, has been scheduled Friday morning in Beaver County Court.

Attempting to force the prosecution's hand, the defense requests the state either to free Williams or to present its case against him now.

Judge Robert E. McCreary postponed the hearing Monday after Ronald Lench, assistant district attorney, told the court the state will not know the exact cause of the death of Mrs. Lauretta Dean Schultz until it receives a report from the State Police Crime Laboratory in Harrisburg. The report is expected about Wednesday or Thursday, he said.

Atty. John A. Conte of Baden, Williams' counsel, took the unusual course of trying to force the state to show why it is holding Williams. The accused slayer was held for the Grand Jury last week.

Coroner John Colavincenzo reported Mrs. Schultz apparently had been strangled July 31.

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania State Police are seeking a white 1951 Buick registered in the name of Robert Shaw, which was stolen July 14 in Hamet, Calif. The car is believed to be connected with the Schultz slaying, they said.

Peace Fight Will Be Won, Rusk Asserts

Freedom For All Mankind U.S. Aim, VFW Meeting Told

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—"We intend to win—and we are going to win. Our objective is victory for all mankind," Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Monday night in reply to charges that the Kennedy administration is pursuing a "no win" foreign policy.

"The global struggle for freedom against Communist imperialism is our main business in the State Department," Rusk told the 63rd annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"This struggle will continue until freedom prevails. It goes without saying that our purpose is to win."

Rusk termed the present world one of turmoil and change and said the primary cause of danger to the United States "is the existence of powerful forces which are determined to destroy our free way of life."

But the secretary said he found encouraging signs in the West's fight. He cited improvements in Western Europe, economic and otherwise, and sharp differences which have developed within the Communist bloc.

"The notion that we in America somehow resent or regret this new vitality and confidence in Europe is plain nonsense," said Rusk. "We applaud results thus far and warmly support the prospects for an even stronger and more unified Europe."

Rusk called the Berlin wall, erected a year ago Monday, a monument to the failure of "competitive co-existence" that dared not compete.

In improving its own military position, Rusk said, this nation seeks to show its adversaries that any resort to force would be not only unprofitable but dangerous.

Referring to an improved capacity for dealing with guerrilla warfare, such as is now on in South Viet Nam, Rusk said: "It will not be allowed to succeed."

Fire-Damaged Plant Cleanup Is Speeded

WASHINGTONVILLE — Cleanup work is being spurred at the fire-damaged W. M. Co. today in hopes of resuming partial production at the plant hit by a $50,000 blaze Sunday.

William Radler, president, said employees are working on a 16-hour daily basis in order to resume output of a special part for Whirlpool Washing Machines needed at the plant at Clyde.

If the local firm cannot get back into operation Friday, the washer firm may have to shut down, forcing layoffs for some 2,900 workers there, he said.

Inspection was slated today of a $30,000 boring and finishing machine to determine if it had been seriously damaged.

Board To Place New Levy On Ballot; 2 Teachers Employed

A new salary schedule for administrative personnel was adopted by the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night.

The board also voted to place a new operating levy on the fall ballot, hired two new teachers and approved establishment of an adult education class.

The new salary schedule will provide varying increases for the administrators and will cost approximately $3,000 a year.

The schedule will provide a better differential between the salaries of the teachers and the administrators in each building, the board said.

It calls for the school heads to receive the maximum salary paid a teacher with the same amount of formal education, plus varying percentages. It is as follows:

High school principal, maximum salary plus 40 to 50 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year; assistant high school principal, plus 5 to 10 per cent with five increments at 1 per cent per year; junior high and elementary principal, plus 15 to 25 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year; elementary principal and bus supervisor, plus 15 to 25 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year; elementary principal, plus 5 to 10 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year; assistant to the junior principal, plus 5 to 15 per cent with five increments at 2 per cent per year.

Supt. Lowell Myers pointed out that in the case of the high school principal, it will mean an increase of about $500 a year. The new schedule will be effective Sept. 1.

He said that when the teachers receive any future increases, the administrators' salaries then can be based on the percentage scale.

Previous discussion on a new operating levy was conducted when the board voted to submit a 5-mill levy on the November ballot for 10 years. It was pointed out this will be reduced to approximately 4.5 mills when the new property valuation is effective.

The board agreed the levy is needed to keep up with general operating increases. William Ferrall, board member, pointed out

Soviet Protests Loom

West Berliners Attack Red Wall

BERLIN (AP) — The Western powers expected strong Soviet protests and new threats today following West Berliners' attacks on the Red wall and Russian vehicles during the first anniversary of the barricade.

Rioting crowds hurled paving blocks and curses Monday night at the barricade which was begun a year ago and now divides Berlin with stone, steel, barbed wire and military fortifications.

Reinforced West German police repeatedly drove wildly screaming demonstrators back from the wall, which has become a symbol of West Berlin's isolation and the Communist repression in East Germany.

One crowd, frustrated in its attempts to reach the wall, surrounded three Soviet army vehicles near Checkpoint Charlie in the U.S. sector. The soldiers were returning from guard duty at the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin.

The angry demonstrators hurled stones and beer bottles, smashing the windows of a bus. Youths closed in on two sedans shouting "pigs" and "dirty bums." West German police finally freed the Soviet vehicles.

Brig. Gen. Frederick O. Hartel, U.S. troop commander in Berlin, went to Checkpoint Charlie to investigate the attack.

West Berlin Police Commissioner Erich Duensing said about 2,000 West Berliners stoned his men along the wall in the Bernauerstrasse area, three miles north of the trouble near Checkpoint Charlie.

Newsmen at the scene said the stones appeared to be aimed at East German police beyond the wall, but that some struck West police cars blocking the way to the wall. West police finally scattered the rioters with a water cannon.

Earlier in the day East and West police hurled hundreds of tear gas grenades across the border at Wilhelmstrasse after an East German water cannon drenched youthful West Berlin marchers.

West Berlin officials had urged a quiet observance of the day, including three minutes of silence at noon to be broken only by the tolling of the Freedom Bell, a replica of the American Liberty Bell. West Berliners drowned out most of the bell's peals with blaring auto horns.

Both sides of the border were heavily patrolled, by the West to prevent violence that could lead to an East-West shooting scrape and by the East to halt attempts to escape or to destroy parts of the wall.

would appropriate an additional $4,000 to expand the program to treat up to eight miles of unsurfaced streets.

Property owners desiring to participate must obtain signatures on a petition, collect the money and have a certified check made payable to Ohio Tar.

The petition and check then are turned in to Safety - Service Director Robert Owen's office. When the work is done to the city's satisfaction, the certified check along with matching funds from the city will be paid to the Stark County firm.

The low-cost surfacing program calls for three applications of liquid asphalt along with slag or other aggregate for a binder.

President Requests More Welfare Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has asked for nearly $600 million in new appropriations, more than half of it to pay for increased costs of the new public welfare law.

In his request to Congress Monday the President asked $306.8 million to finance increased grants to the states for public assistance under the new welfare act.

U.S. Claims Soviet Blocks A-Test Ban

GENEVA (AP) — The United States accused the Soviet Union today of seeking to prevent a treaty banning nuclear weapon tests.

Home Owners On 3 Streets Ask Projects

Property owners on three streets have turned in petitions along with certified checks for a low-cost street surfacing program proposed by City Council.

The streets include Idaho Ave. between Belmar and Sanford Sts., Unity St. from Pennsylvania Ave. to Holliday St., and Hart Alley from Wedgewood Ave. to Andrews Pl.

Property owners on Trentvale St. also have submitted a petition but the certified check still is to be received.

The contract for the low-cost surfacing has been awarded to the Ohio Tar & Asphalt, Inc., of Canton on its bid of 35 cents a square yard amounting to approximately 17½ cents per lineal foot for a street 18 feet wide.

The Stark County firm's bid amounts to 70 cents a running foot for an 18-foot wide street but with the city sharing the cost it reduces the property owners' share to 35 cents.

Because the cost is based on frontage on both sides of a street, the cost is reduced to roughly 17½ cents a foot for one side.

Council appropriated $4,000 from the income tax revenue to pay the city's share for surfacing two miles of dirt streets. If response warrants, Council indicated it

'Orphan' Cars Due Removal At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Removal of old cars parked on village streets for over a year was authorized by Council at a meeting Monday night after a discussion of the problem.

Autos which have apparently been abandoned and left on streets are to be removed to a junk yard and held for 30 days.

Mayor Stanley Fitch said he has not yet heard from the engineer for the village's proposed sewage disposal plant concerning the site for the facility.

The village's permit to discharge sewage expires Wednesday, and selection of a site was necessary for renewal of the permit.

Need for repairs to the Village Hall roof and doors to the basement was discussed and an inspection is slated.

Mayor Fitch was granted permission to obtain an estimate on the cost of a pump recommended for improvement of the Village Hall heating system. The mayor said the Atlantic Heating Co. of New Philadelphia had recommended a furnace pump after the firm was consulted about the high heating costs of the building.

A resolution that the village not release any village property without payment was approved following a request from a Foundry Hill resident that Council close an alley from Walnut St. to his home. Jack Drury was advised he could use the property, but Council would not close the alley.

Repairs to an alley near the Charles Sweeney home were approved following a complaint from Sweeney. Councilman Gillis Earl reported he planned to determine if a fire escape from a school being razed near Canton could be obtained to replace steps in the West End.

Councilman Donald Lewis said repairs are planned for windows at the apartments at the fire station which were recently blown out. He said a sink was recently donated to replace a faulty sink at the apartments.

A motion that Paul Sweeney of E. Main St. be permitted to rent a room at the fire station did not receive a second.

Solicitor Warren Bettis was requested to prepare an ordinance officially adopting a proposed mutual aid program with area fire departments as approved tentatively at the last meeting.

Councilman Clyde Polen and Councilwoman Kate Weaver, who is in a Pittsburgh Hospital, were absent.

Next meeting is Aug. 27.

Kobuta Strike Negotiations Will Resume

Negotiations to settle the 3½-month-old strike at the Koppers Co.'s Kobuta plant are slated to resume Wednesday in Washington after management and union representatives reached an agreement Monday to discontinue mass picketing at the plant.

The agreement to end the mass picketing came after 4½ hours of talks in the chambers of Beaver County Judge Robert McCreary.

It stated that the union would "conduct picketing on or near the premises in a manner that has been defined lawful by various decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania."

The firm agreed to allow Local 874 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union to conduct inspections of the plant at reasonable periods and if the inspection request is made within a reasonable time.

Two union representatives will be allowed to inspect the plant, accompanied by two management representatives.

The agreement also states that authorized personnel will be allowed access to the plant but that only supervisory personnel can take part in production. Security guards will be confined to the interior fence by the agreement.

Earlier in the day the union said the company had attempted to get 28 supervisory employees to the plant shortly after last midnight via a paddlewheel boat on the Ohio River but that pickets kept the men from entering the plant. The company denied the incident.

The plant was struck by 650 employees last May 1 after their old contract expired.

Auto Looting Suspect Held

An East Liverpool man has been bound over to the Hancock County Grand Jury under $2,000 bond in connection with theft of suitcases and clothing from a car parked at Waterford Park Race Track Aug. 3.

Roy Martin Quimby, 46, of 606 St. Clair Ave., was held for court at a hearing Monday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland on a charge of grand larceny.

The squire also fined Quimby $200 and costs and gave him a four-month term in County Jail on a separate charge of tampering with an auto.

Quimby was arrested at Waterford Park on Friday on a charge of tampering and later questioned extensively on the theft Aug. 3 of suitcases and clothing from the car of William Johns of Pittsburgh.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies obtained a search warrant and went through Quimby's home on Saturday, finding most of the clothing valued at $523 and the two suitcases stolen from Johns' car, they said. East Liverpool police aided deputies in executing the search warrant.

Quimby was given the maximum penalty for tampering with an auto at Monday's hearing. He was bound over on a charge of grand larceny and failed to post bond, the squire said.

Squire Herron dismissed a charge of tampering with an auto filed by deputies against Bernice Zwick, 33, of Chester.

Newell Fire Chief Resigns; Foltz To Serve In Position

Arch Coen resigned as chief and a successor was named when Newell volunteer firemen met Monday night in the station.

Coen, 217 Grant St., who has served as chief since the fall of 1961, cited illness in his family in resigning. He is also president of the Hancock County Fire-Fighters Association.

Firemen elected Don Foltz, 513 Jefferson St., as new chief for the remainder of Coen's term. Foltz is an employee of Globe Brick Co. and has been a fireman for 10 years.

A committee, Floyd Wilson, Robert Stoneburner, Larry Foltz, David Jester and Robert Glendenning, was named for the department's annual picnic Aug. 26, with the place to be set later.

Charles Lee, president, presided. Lunch was served by Earl Flesch and Lee.

Next meeting is Aug. 27, with practice at 6:30 p. m. Trustees of the department will meet Aug. 20 at 7:30 p. m.

Deaths and Funerals

Former Ware Worker Dies

Raymond C. McDole, 70, died suddenly of a heart attack at 11:30 a. m. Monday at his home, 930 Orchard Grove Ave.

City firemen took oxygen equipment to the home in an attempt to revive him. He was pronounced dead by a physician, who also had been summoned.

Mr. McDole was born in East Liverpool to Elmer and Margaret Miller McDole. He was employed last as a caster at the Homer Laughlin China Co., retiring in 1958.

He was a member of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church and the IBOP.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Edna G. McDole; a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Price of East Liverpool, and a sister, Mrs. George (Estella) Hayes of Lisbon.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. John Stilts. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday at the funeral home.

Miss Anna Bremer

EAST PALESTINE — Miss Anna Bremer of R. D. 1 died at 11 a. m. Monday at the Brent General Hospital in Detroit, where she had been a patient for 11 days. She was 84.

Miss Bremer was born June 5, 1878, in Steubenville to John and Anna Grube Bremer.

Surviving are six nephews and a niece.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Van Dyke Funeral Home by the Rev. Gordon Bennett, pastor of the United Church of Christ of Unity. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery. Friends may call from 7 to 9 p. m. Wednesday at the funeral home.

Low Road Offer Filed By Youngstown Firm

The City Asphalt & Paving Co. of Youngstown was the apparent low bidder for application of a bituminous treatment on shoulders of sections of Route 9 and Route 14 in Columbiana County, the Ohio Department of Highways has announced.

The firm bid $17,143 for treating 6.9 miles of Route 9 in Hanover and Butler Township and 9.9 miles of Route 14 in Fairfield and Unity Townships. The state's estimate was $21,600.

Suspended Sentence Given Man In Assault

Edward Myers, 815 Lisbon St., was given a suspended 30-day County Jail term today when he pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of assault and battery Sunday on his wife, Mrs. Ann Myers.

Myers, father of four, told the court he struck his wife as a result of a continuing domestic squabble. The judge suspended the sentence on condition he does not strike her again.

In another assault case scheduled for a hearing today, the judge ordered a bench warrant issued for Ronnie Howell of Jewett, near Newell, accused of striking Brady G. Mercer of Newell on Thursday. Howell was released to appear today after pleading not guilty Monday.

Kobuta Strike Negotiations Will Resume

Negotiations to settle the 3½-month-old strike at the Koppers Co.'s Kobuta plant are slated to resume Wednesday in Washington after management and union representatives reached an agreement Monday to discontinue mass picketing at the plant.

The agreement to end the mass picketing came after 4½ hours of talks in the chambers of Beaver County Judge Robert McCreary.

It stated that the union would "conduct picketing on or near the premises in a manner that has been defined lawful by various decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania."

The firm agreed to allow Local 874 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union to conduct inspections of the plant at reasonable periods and if the inspection request is made within a reasonable time.

Two union representatives will be allowed to inspect the plant, accompanied by two management representatives.

The agreement also states that authorized personnel will be allowed access to the plant but that only supervisory personnel can take part in production. Security guards will be confined to the interior fence by the agreement.

Earlier in the day the union said the company had attempted to get 28 supervisory employees into the plant shortly after last midnight via a paddlewheel boat on the Ohio River but that pickets kept the men from entering the plant. The company denied the incident.

The plant was struck by 650 employees last May 1 after their old contract expired.

Auto Looting Suspect Held

An East Liverpool man has been bound over to the Hancock County Grand Jury under $2,000 bond in connection with theft of suitcases and clothing from a car parked at Waterford Park Race Track Aug. 3.

Roy Martin Quimby, 46, of 606 St. Clair Ave., was held for court at a hearing Monday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland on a charge of grand larceny.

The squire also fined Quimby $200 and costs and gave him a four-month term in County Jail on a separate charge of tampering with an auto.

Quimby was arrested at Waterford Park on Friday on a charge of tampering and later questioned extensively on the theft Aug. 3 of suitcases and clothing from the car of William Johns of Pittsburgh.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies obtained a search warrant and went through Quimby's home on Saturday, finding most of the clothing valued at $323 and the two suitcases stolen from Johns' car, they said. East Liverpool police aided deputies in executing the search warrant.

Quimby was given the maximum penalty for tampering with an auto at Monday's hearing. He was bound over on a charge of grand larceny and failed to post bond, the squire said.

Squire Herron dismissed a charge of tampering with an auto filed by deputies against Bernice Zwick, 33, of Chester.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hawkins were Mr. and Mrs. Alva Cope and Mrs. Marge Cope and daughters of the Youngstown Rd. Mrs. Alva Cope's birthday anniversary was observed.

Driver Pays $27 On 6 Old Tickets

Charles E. Beatty of N. Surrey Rd., Fisher Park, was fined $20 and $7.50 costs today in Municipal Court on a charge he failed to pay the penalty on six old parking tickets.

Beatty had pleaded not guilty at arraignment Monday, but switched his plea to guilty when he returned to face Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning. Explaining the change, Beatty told the court he was unable to find receipts which he believed he had received after settling some of the tickets.

The affidavit against Beatty was filed by "Meter Maid" Catherine Martin. It charged him with one specific violation — failure to settle for a ticket issued Aug. 4, 1961, on Market St. A notation on the bottom of the warrant said five more tickets against Beatty also were outstanding.

2 Work With FBI

LISBON — Miss Ruth Ann Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Robinson of R. D. 5, and Miss Marilyn Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Taylor of Columbiana, began working Monday for the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington. Miss Robinson is a graduate from Beaver Local High and Miss Taylor was graduated from Columbiana High School last spring.

Anna Kamper, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kamper, remains a patient at Salem City Hospital.

Wellsville

4 mills would be barely enough to get by on, whereas 5 mills would be more sufficient.

The board had agreed previously that if it was considered necessary to place the levy on the ballot, members would visit each Parent-Teacher Association to explain what the money will be used for.

Miss Mary Lou Barr of East Liverpool was hired as a high school commercial instructor at a salary of $5,550 while Mrs. Marjorie Dyser of Wellsville was employed as an elementary teacher at $3,400.

Miss Barr had been teaching at Anderson (Ind.) College. Mrs. Dyser, who has two years college training, served as a substitute instructor previously.

An adult education class in various phases of sewing will be held this school year. The class will meet one night a week from 7 to 9:30 and will be taught by Mrs. Evelyn Jordan, home economics instructor.

The class will begin Sept. 12. A two-week course will be held for beginners, followed by a 10-week course. A $5 registration fee will be charged for the 10-week course. Additional money will be provided by the State Department of Education and there will be no expense to the board.

Myers reported an elementary teacher and two industrial arts instructors are needed to complete the faculty. He said he expects to have some recommendations at the next meeting. He pointed out that all efforts to date have failed in obtaining anyone for the industrial arts posts.

Mrs. Edythe Elkins was named "head teacher" at McKinley School and Mrs. Frances Jack was appointed the same position at Fairview School. Each will receive $50 a year more for the added duties. It was pointed out Lester Bickel will serve as principal of both buildings the coming year and the head teachers will be in charge of the buildings during his absence at either.

Myers said he will have the school board policy concerning all phases of operation complete by the latter part of the month and another meeting was called for Thursday, Aug. 23, at 7 p. m. to consider his recommendations.

Mrs. Betty Glass of Hillcrest was hired as an assistant cafeteria cook at Fairview School at a salary of $900 a year. She will work from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Beaver

available for use for the first day of school Sept. 6.

However, the new classrooms and gym at the Public School, construction of which began later than the other projects, will not be used until later in the fall. The classrooms will probably be ready in October and the gym in November, VanHorne said.

A contract to supply milk was awarded the Isaly's Dairy Co. of Youngstown on a bid of 6 cents a half-pint of chocolate and 5.5 cents for regular. Students pay 3 cents under a matching program.

Other bidders included Golden Star Dairy, 6½ and 7; Vernon Dell, 6 and 6½ cents, and Borden 6 cents both.

VanHorne estimated the district uses some half million half pints of milk a year, 86 per cent of which is chocolate.

Goddard Bakers of Chester was awarded the bread contract on an offer of 15½ cents white, 18 cents wheat and 27 cents for buns. It was the lowest of all offers, which included Ward, Keystone and Schwebel firms, VanHorne said.

The Chamberlain Coal Co. of West Point was given the contract for supplying screened lump coal for West Point, Rogers and Elkton schools at $7.50 a ton.

Stoker coal for the high school and Public School will be supplied by the R. & R. Coal Co. of the Y. & O. Rd. for $6 a ton.

The Nationwide Insurance Co., for which Dail Mason of Lisbon is agent, was granted the school bus insurance contract for $1,382. Kemper Co. bid $1,865 for coverage on the 30 buses.

Student insurance coverage was granted the Continental Insurance Co. of Youngstown, whose broad coverage costs are $3 for pupils in Grades 7 to 12 and $2 for younger pupils.

In other action the board approved Jack Pozenel, board president, as delegate to the Ohio School Board Association meeting Nov. 14-15 at Columbus, with Paul Dailey, vice president, as alternate.

The board approved $2 a day for private transportation for three high school students residing in the Grimms Bridge area where buses cannot travel. The board also authorized extra pay for Floral Suarez for work done in the industrial arts department during the summer.

Holland Cameron of the Salem Technical School conferred with the board concerning use of advanced pupils of his school for electronics demonstrations in the Beaver Local classes.

The board authorized tuition for two children to the retarded children's classes at Elkton.

A bid from the Canton Hardware Co. for $650 to convert a walk-in cooler at Calcutta School to a freezing unit was accepted. The freezer will be used for storage of foods for district cafeterias.

The board will meet in special session Monday night to consider establishment of a post of district supervisor for the cafeterias. The program, which handles $100,000 worth of food annually, has been directed in the past by Harry Greenwood, clerk, and VanHorne.

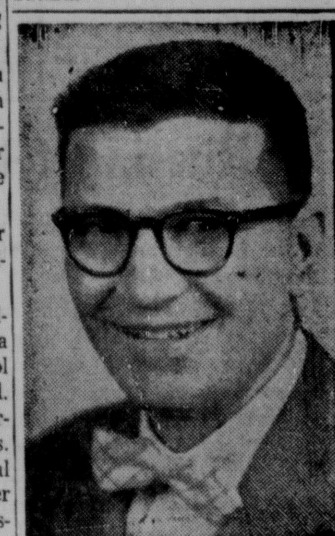

Next meeting is Aug. 27.

Cleveland Jobless Claims Take Jump

CLEVELAND (AP) — Unemployment compensation claims in Cleveland increased almost 25 per cent last week, a rise of 1,050 from the previous week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports.

Initial claims of 5,542 were the highest since Sept. 23, 1961, Robert Schmidt, head of BUC here, said. The week's unemployment rise is attributed to automotive model change-over layoffs and is believed to be temporary.

The Lowell Observatory of Flagstaff, Ariz., and the National Geographic Society have teamed to produce an atlas of the nearby bright planets from Mercury to Saturn.

What About That Health Program?

Russia Picked The Brains First

There is nothing new in the realization that the Russians are ahead in the race to reach the moon.

Yet, their latest space-capsule exploit is a shock. It measures the distance they are ahead — two capsules in orbit at the same time, each capsule reportedly weighing several times as much as the cramped capsules used by American astronauts.

The shock is compounded moreover by the manner of Russian presentation in this latest exploit. Though the Soviet Union does not feel free to open all doors to witnesses, it has furnished photographs and information this time that make it reasonably certain the two men announced as being aloft at the same time in separate capsules actually were there when their government said they were, doing what it declared they were doing.

THE UNITED STATES must continue to wonder what kind of boosters Russian rocketeers are using to hurl aloft payloads it cannot duplicate with any rockets now in existence here. Are they using nuclear energy, perhaps? Might some of those nuclear "tests" be concerned with something more significant than bombs?

The United States also must continue to wonder what the connection is between the moon and the latest Russian "stunt" and its own "stunts."

The current estimate is that this country will spend not less than $20 billion and closer to $40 billion to put a man on the moon. Neither estimate is realistic.

It will cost an indeterminate number of billions to put a man on the moon and still more billions to do whatever seems to be necessary afterward. It will be surprising if all estimates are not boosted upward immediately in an instinctive U.S. reaction.

WHETHER it will cost the Russians as much as it will cost the United States to reach the moon is a fascinating conjecture. Probably they will do it cheaper. They will be doing it as a public project with government plants whereas everything done here is a private project assigned by public authority. Profit must be taken here.

But by the same token everything done here in the form of a new project is accompanied by "fallout" of profitable benefits whereas the same effort in the Soviet Union under government control might have no "fallout" at all.

In the United States it is as though billions were being invested in a project that would produce untold values in new concepts and products while it was in progress.

In the Soviet Union the investment may very well be sterile as far as incidental benefits are concerned. Example: Materials developed in research here may show up in household wares, but in the Soviet Union there would be no ready market for new wares because Russia is not a consumer economy.

MEN ARE ON their way to the moon in quest of knowledge ultimately and prestige immediately. Leaders in the race to get there first are the United States and the Soviet Union. The Russians are ahead and the United States has no prospect of catching up. The United States has no hope of winning but has high hope of finishing a close second.

This is not because of any lack of money but because the outcome of the race is being determined by something money can't buy — time. The Soviet Union started early to pick the brains of the German rocketeers it rounded up at the end of World War II. The United States started late to pick the brains of its Germans. It lost too much time before it started.

The filibuster has another value, usually overlooked. It is one way of averting head-on clashes between irreconcilable factions in the Senate. Many proposals that would have caused major mischief have been sidetracked by filibusters, whereas only a few that would have had major benefits have been permanently defeated by these talkers.

A communications satellite bill as far as this waning session of Congress is concerned represents little more than the Kennedy administration's attempt to split the difference between socialism and capitalism in ownership and control of a communications satellite system.

If the bill is talked to death, the status quo will continue; capitalism will own and control Telstar and all other satellites like it.

If the November elections increase Republican strength in Congress, a new bill legalizing outright capitalist control would be in order. If Democrats gain strength, a bill to socialize a satellite communications system might well be a byproduct.

If Sen. Morse gets around to recipes for pot likker and turnip greens, don't be surprised.

Pot Likker And Turnip Greens

By association, the word "filibuster" suggests long-winded senators from the South talking against proposals to protect the civil rights of Negroes. One of the most objectional filibusters of all time was Louisiana's Huey Long, who once made a bad joke of something that wasn't funny by reciting recipes for pot likker and turnip greens on the Senate floor.

Old-timers in the Capitol are recalling that Sen. Morse, now helping to filibuster against a proposal concerning communications satellites, once thundered: "I think the filibuster abuses the right of a majority. I feel that it is important that finally we come to a vote on the merits of any issue and that no minority group should have the parliamentary power to defeat majority rule."

That was when the Oregonian said he belonged to the Republican party. He says now he belongs to the Democratic party, whose filibusters are legendary.

There is little likelihood the current filibuster can be stopped. There is little likelihood of stopping any filibuster and for the same reason that none ever has been stopped before. Senators instinctively guard the right to talk to death all bills they know they can't defeat in open voting because it is their last resort.

Time For The Big Blow

The names of this year's hurricanes will be Alma, Becky, Celia, Daisy and so on, ending with Wilma if the hurricane season lasts long enough.

Each storm will make news in its own way and at least one of them will be the biggest news of the day until it blows itself out. Hurricane Donna set a new standard in this respect in 1960 by being the first major hurricane to be preceded by wholesale evacuation of people in coastal areas in the Gulf of Mexico — a special kind of news.

This was the payoff of almost 90 years of developing a hurricane warning system. Though little or nothing can be done to save crops, buildings, communication lines, small craft, waterfront developments and animals, human life can be saved by a warning system from both immediate and after-effects, notably the disastrous floods that follow hurricanes.

A Weather satellite, Tiros III, launched in July 1961, spotted five hurricanes and one tropical storm in the Atlantic, two hurricanes and one storm in the eastern Pacific and nine typhoons in the central and western Pacific. Tiros IV, launched last February, already has relayed more than 23,000 weather pictures to ground observers.

During the coming hurricane season, heavy dependence will be placed on Tiros V, launched in June. Its two cameras are both reported working.

A measure of a hurricane's force in an era when force is measured in megatons of TNT is this: A giant hurricane like Donna is a 500-billion-horsepower engine capable of lifting two billion tons of water from the ocean each day and dumping it back in the form of torrential rain. Every second a hurricane expends as much energy as several atomic bombs.

No wonder hurricanes make news when they occur. They dwarf even the savagery of mankind.

Gandhi's Writings Might Help U.S.

NEW DELHI

In a city where more than a thousand desperate persons daily scavenge the stenchful Badli garbage dumps in search of some object, some buttons, some slight thing of value to sell for an arial (1½ pennies) with which to buy food, it is strange to run into codes of discipline and moral persuasion that make the workers of India a most moderate, understanding, though suffering people.

It is not conceivable here that men would shut down by strikes, factories, shipyards, defense plants and other installations vital to their land. They fight for bread, yes.

I have been here while street sweepers have struck. Donkey drivers have gone out to back up demands to increase their $4-a-month pay to five dollars. Rickshaw pullers have protested harsh treatment by the constabulary.

Housing workers have struck, too. I would not imply that there is not a massive strike or two from time to time.

BUT IT'S THE SPIRIT of the revered Mahatma Gandhi which still permeates the very life breath of working millions here. I hadn't known that during the great leader's drive for freedom he had meditated much over the needs and tactics of labor.

I learned of this in the austere barrenness of the headquarters of Gandhi's associate, G. L. Nanda, now minister of labor. Together they had launched a labor movement back in the 20s to counteract the Communists' violent class struggle tactics.

Mahatma Gandhi believed that working people should not be abused or denied the full share due them. Nor should they work by hand and brain only for bread by which to subsist.

But he also believed that the working people must eschew violence; must not dissipate their strength in futile campaigns for excessive demands and must respect the rights of the men who employ them.

Gandhi and Nanda worked in the textile fields to build a wall of morality against the slashing offensives of the Communist unions.

Today the codes of relationships between worker and employer and amongst workers' organizations are deeply steeped in Gandhi's philosophy of labor relations.

MEN CAN STRIKE. But it's the people, through the government, who decide whether they can. If there is a dispute, the law and the codes of moral suasion say that every effort must be made by the feuding parties to settle their grievances.

If they fail, the government moves in. There is a hearing. The government then decides whether there can be a strike or whether it is not in the best interests of the land. Then it is referred to a special tribunal. Its decisions are final.

In addition, since May, 1958, all the major unions and employers' associations have been guided by a special voluntary code of discipline.

It is aimed at industrial peace and a fair shake for the workers. The code lays down mighty specific obligations on both labor and management. Under the code both sides have agreed voluntarily to avoid litigation.

Management and labor agree that "affirming their faith in democratic principles, they bind themselves to settle all future differences, disputes and grievances by mutual negotiations, conciliation, and voluntary arbitration."

They agree further that "neither party will have recourse to coercion, intimidation, victimization or go-slow." We know the latter word as slowdowns by workers.

Perhaps more of us back home should study Gandhi's writings.

Cause Of Confusion

By David Lawrence

Complex Language Of Court Opinions Cited

Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States broke precedent the other day in discussing publicly the recent decision in the famous "school prayer" case. He said in a speech before the Commonwealth Club at San Francisco that errors in the public's interpretation of David Lawrence court decisions come sometimes largely because of "the haste with which news agencies are obliged to cover our announcements."

Justice Clark may not realize it but much of the confusion and misinterpretation in this instance arose from statements by members of the court itself—the opinions written by Justice William O. Douglas, who concurred with the majority, and by Justice Potter Stewart, who dissented. They did not prepare their opinions in haste. They had had an opportunity to examine carefully the majority opinion, written by Justice Black, before it was handed down by the court itself.

THE VERBATIM TEXT of what Justice Clark said in his speech at San Francisco is now available. He declared flatly that the court had not outlawed religious observance in public schools, and then added:

"I make it a practice not to discuss specific cases. The best place to find out what they hold is in the opinion. But I do think it appropriate to say something in regard to this one. It came down on the last day of the term with some 15 other cases. The news announcements were not complete, most of them reciting the content of this 22-word prayer and the fact that the court had held it unconstitutional for a teacher to have her pupils recite it."

"The public response was immediate and critical. The mail is heaviest in years, the criticism the most pointed. In fact, it was a case that would bring a Martin Luther to say of Judges: 'A good jurist but a bad Christian.'"

"But I found that as soon as the people understood the holding the trend changed. In fact, most of my mail was favorable. This was because, I believe, that the news agencies began to interpret the decision in the light of the facts. Rather than jumping at the result and confusing the spiritual or ethical policy involved with the legal one decided, the public saw that here was a state-written prayer circulated to state-employed teachers with instructions to have their pupils recite it in unison at the beginning of each school day."

"True, a student might leave the room or not stand with his fellows and give the prayer. But could this be said to make it voluntary?"

"But whether the school prayer was voluntary or not was not decisive. The Constitution says that the government shall take no part in the establishment of religion. 'No' means 'No' and, as I have indicated, as soon as the people learned that this was all the court decided—not that there could be no official recognition of a divine being or recognition on silver or currency of "In God We Trust" or public acknowledgment that we are a religious nation—they understood the basis on which the court acted.

"The trouble is that so often—the claim of the wife—the court is never understood."

IT IS STILL a question whether the public understands the "school prayer" case. For what Justices Douglas and Stewart wrote has given rise to much of the continuing criticism inside and outside of Congress concerning the court's own opinion. Thus, Justice Stewart in his dissent said:

"With all respect, I think the court has misapplied a great constitutional principle. I cannot see how an 'official religion' is established by letting those who want to say a prayer say it. On the contrary, I think that to deny the wish of these school children to join in reciting this prayer is to deny them the opportunity of sharing in the spiritual heritage of our nation."

"The court today says that the state and federal governments are without constitutional power to prescribe any particular form of words to be recited by any group of the American people on any subject touching religion. The third stanza of 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' made our national anthem by act of Congress in 1931, contains these verses: 'in God is our trust.'"

Justice Stewart also cited the fact that Congress in 1954 amended the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag to read: "One nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

AS FOR JUSTICE DOUGLAS, who "concurred" in the majority opinion of the court, he pointed out that what New York State was doing in opening its public school sessions each day with prayer is what is also done by each house of Congress and by the Supreme Court itself. He questioned the constitutionality of this, too, and wrote:

"Yet for me the principle is the same, no matter how briefly the prayer is said, for in each of the instances given the person praying is a public official on the public payroll, performing a religious exercise in a governmental institution."

This correspondent, on the day after the court's opinion was handed down, wrote a dispatch for Wednesday, June 27, pointing out the narrow ground covered and stating his conclusion that voluntary prayer had not really been banned in the schools.

As mentioned in this column on July 5, the public would be better served if the court's own opinion distinguished between the actual ruling in each case and the "dicta" or opinions or reasoning given by individual justices.

The fault is not with the press or with the public but with the complex and often ambiguous language in which the opinions of the justices themselves are presented.

ALGIERS

The volatile ingredients of independence have not quite settled. The men who occupy the offices built by French colonialism have not quite adjusted to their new surroundings. The blood that ran during 7½ years of Algerian warfare is not quite dry.

Two European couples are driving back to Algiers after a day at the beach. Their car is stopped by a Nationalist Army patrol which asks for their passes. They say they have none. They are ordered out of the car and a soldier with a riding whip slashes each one twice across the face. "Now we'll be able to recognize you," he says.

The Racing Club salt water swimming pool on the Bay of Algiers "discouraged" Moslem members. Now, every day, a group of armed Moslem soldiers bustles past the ticket taker without paying the "honorary membership fee" of 60 cents. They climb to the long jetty above the pool and empty their sub-machineguns into the sea.

THEN THEY GO to the dressing room to change into bathing trunks. "Let's see if they take their weapons in swimming with them," says a European member. After swimming they take over the adjacent volleyball court, but volleyball is a game for those who have known vacations on the beach. They take down the net and play soccer they learned in the streets of their slums. Fashionable European women in bikinis pretend not to notice and concentrate on their tans.

In a pretentious oak-paneled office almost the size of a basketball court, previously occupied by Gov. Gen. Jacques Soustelle and ex-Gov. Raoul Salan, Premier Benyoussse Ben Khedda sits in solitary splendor.

A telephone rings, no secretary rushes to pick it up. He picks it up and speaks in Arabic, in a gentle, melancholy voice. Behind smoked glasses his eyes flicker with uncertainty. "Sometimes resignation is a quality," he tells his visitor. "Sometimes the most useful political role is to leave the political arena."

In the bar of the Aletti Hotel, groups cluster around tables in animated conversation. It is here that history is being made, not in the abandoned offices of impotent leaders, a young Moslem militant says.

Hangers-on, lobbyists, well-wishers, community leaders, foreign agents, diplomats, officers, ministers, former ministers, bodyguards, and a smattering of ladies who carry out their own form of lobbying with the management's indulgence. This is part of the cast in the unpredictable drama enacted daily in the Aletti bar.

Civilized Men

Most of us felt good about the meetings of old friends last week — Dwight Eisenhower and Winston Churchill in England, Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman in Iowa.

We felt good because we desperately want to believe there is a level of civilization on which men can get along amicably even though they have had conflicting opinions.

Such a level is found frequently in political affairs, where otherwise implacable foes can zip shut their dispatch cases after a ringing-dilly in debate and go to lunch together.

It is not uncommon among members of the legal profession, who beat each other's brains out in a hard-fought case before keeping a date to play golf together.

There are many places where hard-swinging opponents put away their shillelachs and clasp hands in mutually gratifying friendship until time to resume the battle. But there aren't enough places, hence this acknowledgement of how pleasant it was to be reminded last week that two of this country's three living presidents hold each other in high esteem.

If Mr. Truman hadn't made disparaging remarks about Gen. Eisenhower, whom he once admired openly, in a partisan post,

By Truman Twill

those two could be friends too. There would be no barrier between Mr. Hoover and his Republican successor, though they never have proved the contrary.

Men like these have opinions that cut across one another like shards of broken glass in an empty concrete mixer. On matters of opinion they would be irreconcilably opposed on nine out of ten subjects.

But on appraisals of character and integrity they can see everything in the same perspective. The mark of greatness is on them.

This is the level where civilization begins — the point at which men quit beating each other over the head with clubs and meet together as fellow human beings, regardless of their differences.

Some of us felt good about those two meetings of old friends last week. Our Ike and Britain's Winston. Our Herbert Hoover and our Harry Truman.

It's a shame it doesn't happen often enough to set an example for all of us. If we could get past the shards of opinion, some of those so-and-sos might be all right. They just might be all right.

Russia Picked The Brains First

There is nothing new in the realization that the Russians are ahead in the race to reach the moon.

Yet, their latest space-capsule exploit is a shock. It measures the distance they are ahead — two capsules in orbit at the same time, each capsule reportedly weighing several times as much as the cramped capsules used by American astronauts.

The shock is compounded moreover by the manner of Russian presentation in this latest exploit. Though the Soviet Union does not feel free to open all doors to witnesses, it has furnished photographs and information this time that make it reasonably certain the two men announced as being aloft at the same time in separate capsules actually were there when their government said they were, doing what it declared they were doing.

THE UNITED STATES must continue to wonder what kind of boosters Russian rocketeers are using to hurl aloft payloads it cannot duplicate with any rockets now in existence here. Are they using nuclear energy, perhaps? Might some of those nuclear "tests" be concerned with something more significant than bombs?

The United States also must continue to wonder what the connection is between the moon and the latest Russian "stunt" and its own "stunts."

The current estimate is that this country will spend not less than $20 billion and closer to $40 billion to put a man on the moon. Neither estimate is realistic.

It will cost an indeterminate number of billions to put a man on the moon and still more billions to do whatever seems to be necessary afterward. It will be surprising if all estimates are not boosted upward immediately in an instinctive U.S. reaction.

Cause Of Confusion

Complex Language Of Court Opinions Cited

Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States broke precedent the other day in discussing publicly the recent decision in the famous "school prayer" case. He said in a speech before the Commonwealth Club at San Francisco that errors in the public's interpretation of Justice William O. Douglas, who concurred with the majority, and by Justice Potter Stewart, who dissented, they did not prepare their opinions in haste. They had had an opportunity to examine carefully the majority opinion, written by Justice Black, before it was handed down by the court itself.

Justice Clark may not realize it but much of the confusion and misinterpretation in this instance arose from statements by members of the court itself—the opinions written by Justice William O. IT IS STILL a question whether the public understands the "school prayer" case. For what Justices Douglas and Stewart wrote has given rise to much of the continuing criticism inside and outside of Congress concerning the court's own opinion. Thus, Justice Stewart in his dissent said:

"With all respect, I think the court has misapplied a great constitutional principle. I cannot see how an 'official religion' is established by letting those who want to say a prayer say it. On the contrary, I think that to deny the wish of these school children to join in reciting this prayer is to deny them the opportunity of sharing in the spiritual heritage of our nation. . . . The court today says that the state and federal governments are without constitutional power to prescribe any particular form of words to be recited by any group of the American people on any subject touching religion. The third stanza of 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' made our national anthem by act of Congress in 1931, contains these verses. . . . 'in God is our trust.'"

Justice Stewart also cited the fact that Congress in 1954 amended the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag to read: "One nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

AS FOR JUSTICE DOUGLAS, who "concurred" in the majority opinion of the court, he pointed out that what New York State was doing in opening its public school sessions each day with prayer is what is also done by each house of Congress and by the Supreme Court itself. He questioned the constitutionality of this, too, and wrote:

"Yet for me the principle is the same, no matter how briefly the prayer is said, for in each of the instances given the person praying is a public official on the public payroll, performing a religious exercise in a governmental institution."

This correspondent, on the day after the court's opinion was handed down, wrote a dispatch for Wednesday, June 27, pointing out the narrow ground covered and stating his conclusion that voluntary prayer had not really been banned in the schools.

As mentioned in this column on July 5, the public would be better served if the court's own opinion distinguished between the actual ruling in each case and the "dicta" or opinions or reasoning given by individual justices.

The fault is not with the press or with the public but with the complex and often ambiguous language in which the opinions of the justices themselves are presented.

Ugly Vengeance

By Sanche De Gramont

ALGIERS

The volatile ingredients of independence have not quite settled. The men who occupy the offices built by French colonialism have not quite adjusted to their new surroundings. The blood that ran during 7½ years of Algerian warfare is not quite dry.

Two European couples are driving back to Algiers after a day at the beach. Their car is stopped by a Nationalist Army patrol which asks for their passes. They say they have none. They are ordered out of the car and a soldier with a riding whip slashes each one twice across the face. "Now we'll be able to recognize you," he says.

The Racing Club salt water swimming pool on the Bay of Algiers "discouraged" Moslem members. Now, every day, a group of armed Moslem soldiers bustles past the ticket taker without paying the "honorary membership fee" of 60 cents. They climb to the long jetty above the pool and empty their sub-machineguns into the sea.

THEN THEY GO to the dressing room to change into bathing trunks. "Let's see if they take their weapons in swimming with them," says a European member. After swimming they take over the adjacent volleyball court, but volleyball is a game for those who have known vacations on the beach. They take down the net and play soccer they learned in the streets of their slums. Fashionable European women in bikinis pretend not to notice and concentrate on their tans.

In a pretentious oak-paneled office almost the size of a basketball court, previously occupied by Gov. Gen. Jacques Soustelle and ex-Gen. Raoul Salan, Premier Benyousssef Ben Khedda sits in solitary splendor.

A telephone rings, no secretary rushes to pick it up. He picks it up and speaks in Arabic, in a gentle, melancholy voice. Behind smoked glasses his eyes flicker with uncertainty. "Sometimes resignation is a quality," he tells his visitor. "Sometimes the most useful political role is to leave the political arena."

In the bar of the Aletti Hotel, groups cluster around tables in animated conversation. It is here that history is being made, not in the abandoned offices of impotent leaders, a young Moslem militant says.

Hangers-on, lobbyists, well-wishers, community leaders, foreign agents, diplomats, officers, ministers, former ministers, bodyguards, and a smattering of ladies who carry out their own form of lobbying with the management's indulgence. This is part of the cast in the unpredictable drama enacted daily in the Aletti bar.

Civilized Men

Most of us felt good about the meetings of old friends last week — Dwight Eisenhower and Winston Churchill in England, Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman in Iowa.

We felt good because we desperately want to believe there is a level of civilization on which men can get along amicably even though they have had conflicting opinions.

Such a level is found frequently in political affairs, where otherwise implacable foes can zip shut their dispatch cases after a ringing-dilly in debate and go to lunch together. It is not uncommon among members of the legal profession, who beat each other's brains out in a hard-fought case before keeping a date to play golf together.

There are many places where hard-swinging opponents put away their shillelachs and clasp hands in mutually gratifying friendship until time to resume the battle. But there aren't enough places, hence this acknowledgement of how pleasant it was to be reminded last week that two of this country's three living presidents hold each other in high esteem.

If Mr. Truman hadn't made disparaging remarks about Gen. Eisenhower, whom he once admired openly, in a partisan pout,

Woman And 2 Children Hurt

A Wellsville woman and two youngsters were injured slightly when their car was struck from behind by another auto on Route 39 west of Wellsville Monday night about 9:10.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a car operated by Glenn Jarvis, 30, of Salineville R. D. 1 hit the rear of one driven by Charles Sanfilippo, 37, of 1708 Clark Ave., Wellsville, about 3 1/2 miles west of Wellsville.

Sanfilippo had pulled from a private driveway and was headed east when the mishap occurred.

Shirley Sanfilippo, 31, along with Nina Sanfilippo, 8, and Rebecca Sanfilippo, 6, were treated by a Wellsville physician for bruises.

Jarvis was cited for failure to keep the assured clear distance. Damage to the two sedans was moderate, officers said.

New Program Set Up

'Board' To Guide Wellsville Band

A Band Board has been established to function as a guiding unit for the Wellsville High School Band, it was reported at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

The duties of the new board will be similar to those of the Athletic Board to the school athletic program.

Supt. Lowell Myers will serve as chairman of the new unit. Charles Glass is the Board of Education representative. Other members are Ted Koenig, band director; Pat Frontone, president of the Band Parents Association, and William Menuogh, high school principal.

MYERS explained the board will assist in the guidance and direction of the band and will act on all financial matters. The board will schedule activities, along with making recommendations to the Board of Education. He said one meeting has been held to outline the scheduled trip of the band to the Ohio State Fair at Columbus.

The Ohio Valley Paint Co. of Wellsville was awarded a contract to paint the ceiling in the gymnasium on a low bid of $1,315. Hollis Logue of East Liverpool bid $1,475. The work will be done before a new lighting system is installed.

The Sayre Electric Co. of East Liverpool was given a contract for the wiring and to install the fixtures on its bid of $1,372. The Russell Electric Co. of Wellsville bid $2,003.

THE BOARD let a contract at its last meeting for the purchase of the fixtures at a cost of $2,700.

Earl Mundy, maintenance supervisor, reported on summer work done at the various buildings. He said all are practically ready for the opening of school. Six rooms have been painted at Fairview.

The septic tank filter bed sewer line is clogged at Fairview and work was to begin today on repairs. The board discussed having a roof installed over the filter bed.

County health authorities will be asked if this is allowed. Mundy said McKinley School is in fair shape although no painting was done. MacDonald has been cleaned and is ready while the restrooms and floors have been painted at the high school. The high school library floor remains to be painted.

AT GARFIELD, all the ceilings have been painted and two more broken windows are to be replaced. Mundy said eight windows at the school were broken over the weekend by vandals.

A boiler tube in the high school unit has a small leak. Russell Dyerst, board member, will be asked to check. He was absent last night.

Various walks are to be repaired with the work scheduled shortly, Mundy reported.

William Ferrall, board member, suggested a record be kept of the work done each year so a planned maintenance program can be set up.

The board agreed that Mundy and Myers would be responsible for naming the driver for a school-owned truck recently purchased in event it is used for hauling band instruments or football equipment to out-of-town games.

The board agreed to investigate the purchase of plexi-glass panes for installation in broken windows. It was pointed out plexi-glass is much stronger than regular glass and the cost is only about 73 cents more per pane. Raymond Rolley, clerk, is to obtain the exact prices.

ROLLEY reported a new freezer has been installed at the Fairview cafeteria and the one there has been transferred to the high school cafeteria.

He said Ogilvie's of East Liverpool has replaced a refrigerator, freezer, three electric stoves and a washer and drier in the home economics department.

A discussion was held on the possibility of establishing a driver training program in the school. Ferrall presented information he had obtained on the program from the Columbiana County Motor Club. He pointed out it would be valuable to the students, explaining those who take such training are eligible for lower auto insurance rates. Myers also spoke in favor of such a program, but action was delayed until after it is learned whether or not the proposed new levy is adopted. There are two qualified instructors in the system at present.

County health authorities will be asked if this is allowed. Mundy said McKinley School is in fair shape although no painting was done. MacDonald has been cleaned and is ready while the rest-

Lisbon Fiscal Dilemma May Require Cuts

LISBON — Reporting on the village government's deepening financial crisis, Clerk - Treasurer Ray Hempstead told Council Monday night the corporation may be unable to meet its payrolls unless all departments cut expenses.

Bills totaling $9,250 are due against all funds, Hempstead said. There is a total of $3,940 due from the general fund, with just a little over half that amount available, he added.

Hempstead said he hopes the village will receive approximately $6,000 in a settlement of intangible taxes from the county around the end of August.

Council signed the vouchers but Hempstead was ordered to pay the bills only as money became available. He will write to all creditors, advising them of the village's situation.

One of the good notes at the meeting was a letter from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., advising that consumers will get a decrease of half a cent per thousand cubic feet of gas beginning Sept. 1.

School patrol costs were also discussed. Council has one woman as a guard, which averages about half the cost of a man and will ask the Board of Education for a decrease in the amount paid the man for a more uniform rate.

Councilman Joseph Dornon said he will attend a meeting of the Ohio Governors Commission on Aging in Salem Thursday.

Council's budget hearing with Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, Auditor Kenneth Bell and Treasurer Vincent Judge will be held Sept. 28.

The Lions Club street fair Sept. 27-29 was again discussed as the group will block state highways in Lisbon from 5 to midnight the three nights.

After lengthy discussion, Council agreed to the closing of the state routes if properly detoured and patrolled during these hours to avoid any traffic problems.

High School Principal George Nace Jr. has resigned from the Sadies VanFossan Swimming Pool Commission and Mayor Dean Stockman said he would appoint a successor. Nace had been on the commission since the pool has been in operation and the first year he was manager.

The State Highway Patrol requested two free parking spaces on N. Beaver St., along the County Court, so that traffic offenders will have a place to park when in for hearings.

The Democratic Club presented a 50 star flag for the Council chambers. The flag was obtained from Rep. Wayne L. Hays and was flown over the capitol. The flag replaces the 48-star flag also presented Council by the Democrats.

Council will go back on two meetings a month in September with its first scheduled Sept. 10 at 7:30 p. m.

Oldest In Peace Corps To Aid Young Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—The oldest Peace Corps volunteer leaves today to give a hand to a young republic.

Oscar Haugen, 69, flies out of Idlewild Airport bound for Tunisia with 39 other experts in the care and use of heavy road building equipment.

Was he excited about setting up shop in Africa and getting into what is usually considered a young man's game?

"No," said Haugen. "I travel quite a bit."

In 1931, his wife, 3-month-old daughter and 4-year-old son died in a fire that burned their home to the ground. Only Haugen and a son, 8, survived.

Six years later the son was dead of a brain tumor after an accident.

Haugen picked up stakes and began moving, quitting his job as foreman for a road building company near his home in Argyle, Minn.

He helped build an ordnance depot in Minneapolis, a highway in Alaska. Then he ranged farther, to Iceland and Newfoundland, where he worked on airport projects.

For the last eight years Haugen has been home, helping four brothers run the family farm.

Now the Peace Corps. Why did he want to get moving again?

"I want to help other people," he said. "I want to see what I can do to encourage other people to overcome their troubles."

Haugen's party of heavy equipment specialists were requested by the Tunisian government, to get construction work rolling here.

Haugen will help maintain the equipment and teach the Tunisians to operate tractors, bulldozers and other machinery.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Sweeney of E. Chestnut St.

Invitations have been received for the coming marriage of Miss Gayla Lee Eells, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Roger Eells of Ironton, former Lisbon residents, and Donald Emerson Meyer.

Wedding Set Sept. 1

The ceremony will take place Sept. 1 at 2:30 p. m. at the Christ Episcopal Church of Ironton.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Nace Jr. and son, Dike, and daughter, Heidi, of N. Park Pl. returned home Saturday from a vacation trip north to New Brunswick and Quebec, Canada, and back through the New England States.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bird and children, Kenny, Patty, Nancy, Johnny and Charley, of Sebring, Fla., are visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Halverstadt of the Elkton Rd. Mrs. Bernice Lovejoy of Wyandotte, Mich., is also visiting the Halverstadts.

Mrs. Bessie Cullison of W. Washington St. entertained friends Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Garrod of Dayton, former Lisbon residents, and their grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garrod, of Germantown, spent the weekend with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Jenkins of W. Lincoln Way and relatives in East Palestine.

1963 Reunion Set

The 1963 reunion will be held July 7.

Mrs. Dan Vargo of W. Lincoln Way entertained the Lisbon Cardette Club Friday evening.

Prizes for 500 went to Mrs. Cecil McCowin, Mrs. Donald Elkins and Mrs. Bernard Sweeney.

3 Resign, 5 Join Faculty

Five teachers were employed and the resignations of three others were accepted when the Midland Board of Education met Monday night.

The new faculty members include Ronald Markel, a mathematics teacher, who also will be assistant varsity football coach; Joseph Shavasta, commercial;

Mrs. Robert Needs, English, and Paul Kepple, science, all in the high school, and Mrs. Elva Kunkle, who will be fifth grade teacher at the 4th St. building.

Markel will replace Gerald LaValle, who has been named head junior high football coach.

The resignations included those of Darrell Stillwagon, English teacher and faculty manager of athletics, who has accepted a position in Akron; Miss Monica Shone, an English teacher who is going to Perryopolis, and Robert Lewis, a mathematics instructor.

The board also hired Mrs. Mabel Edwards, Mrs. Emma Uccellini and Mrs. Antoinette Wells as a part-time janitresses at the high school.

Routine business also was transacted.

Hammondsville Man

Due Hearing In Crash

William H. Burton, 43, of Hammondsville is slated to receive a hearing Saturday at 10 a. m. before Judge Helen Huntsman of Toronto on a charge of failing to halt in the assured clear distance.

Burton was cited Sunday morning after his pickup truck struck the rear of a car driven by Mark S. Abrams, 53, of 810 Main St., Wellsville.

Abrams is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in the crash. His wife, Mrs. Marjorie Abrams, is in "good" condition and his sister, Marion Abrams, is in "fairly good" condition.

Court To Pick Lawyer

For Defendant, 70

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Common Pleas Court plans to appoint an attorney Albert G. Knaian, 70, charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of a prominent attorney.

Knaian was arraigned Monday and said he had no money to hire an attorney. Police say he admitted shooting Joseph Robert Sagmeister on June 26 because the attorney allegedly wronged him in the settlement of an estate.

City Man To End Stay Of 2 Weeks In Fallout Shelter

An East Liverpool serviceman is scheduled to emerge above ground Wednesday at the end of a two-week stay in a fallout shelter at Bethesda, Md., as one of 100 volunteers participating in a test that started Aug. 1.

He is Navy Airman Apprentice Kenneth L. Hawthorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Hawthorne, 311 W. 9th St.

While in the shelter, 90 enlisted men and two officers have been served one hot meal and one cold meal every day. The daily diet is 2,000 calories. Eight of the 100 men participating observed the test from outside the shelter by closed circuit television.

The enlisted men, all recently detached from the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., range in age from 17 to the early 20's. Most of them are single.

Mother-In-Law Sued

In Marriage Breakup

NEW YORK (AP) — Leslie B. Morrisett of Greenwich, Conn., claims his mother-in-law helped break up his marriage of 28 years, and he is suing her for a half-million dollars damages.

In the suit filed in federal court Monday, Morrisett said Mrs. Clover Boldt Johnson of New York City persuaded her daughter to leave him and move to Palm Beach, Florida, where on July 13 she began a divorce action which Morrisett is contesting.

Soviet A-Tests Slow

Norway's Fish Probe

SVOLVAER, Norway (AP) — The Soviet nuclear tests in the Arctic have forced the Norwegian Oceanographic Institute to curtail its investigations of fish in the Barents Sea.

Steinar Olsen, an institute scientist, said the Russians have closed off half the ocean area where the investigations were planned.

Siding Damaged With Slingshots; 3 Youths Nabbed

The parents of three 14-year-old boys have agreed to pay for damage inflicted with slingshots Monday night on recently - installed aluminum siding of a Beechwood home, police reported.

Everett Horner, 135 Beechwood St., reported the damage to police at 7:57 p. m. yesterday. He said it was caused by three boys firing stones with slingshots. There were dents in two sections of the siding, installed only a few weeks ago, he said.

Patrolman Jerry Adkins located the three boys and talked with their parents, who agreed to confer with Horner and settle the damage, police said. Horner told the officer the arrangement was satisfactory with him.

Officer Adkins told the three youths another violation will result in a citation to Juvenile Court.

Rhodes Defends Plan For Industrial Boost

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) The Republican candidate for governor says his proposal for industrial expansion "represents the tool necessary to put Ohio back in the new jobs and industrial development race."

State Auditor James A. Rhodes told a Perry County GOP rally here Monday night that new jobs, averaging 10,000 a year, will not support population gains, estimated at 150,000 a year. He said his proposal for Ohio industrial expansion will create 200,000 new jobs.

Rhodes said a governor of Ohio should be the state's No. 1 salesman, working with the other branches of state government to expand and diversify the economic base to assure jobs for all.

Truck Driver Victim Of $5,000 Robbery

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — An Ohio-bound truck driver was robbed of an estimated $5,000 at a stop light here Monday.

Howard Minims, 35, of Indianapolis said two men who had followed his truck for a long distance along U.S. 40 took the money when he stopped at a traffic light. Minims was headed for the Blue Bird Pie Co. in Dayton with the money which represented receipts for a load of pies.

Taft Assails Plan On Trade Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles P. Taft, former Cincinnati mayor, attacked an amendment to the trade expansion bill during testimony before the Senate Finance Committee.

Taft, brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, R-Ohio, is general counsel of the Committee for a National Trade Program. The committee has been a consistent supporter of a liberal program.

Taft labeled the amendment, proposed by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., as "37 varieties of protectionism." The amendment would make 37 changes in the proposed expansion bill and has been a rallying point of many industries opposed to the bill. Taft said the Bush Amendment would make meaningful trade agreements impossible.

The board agreed that Mundy and Myers would be responsible for naming the driver for a school-owned truck recently purchased in event it is used for hauling band instruments or football equipment to out-of-town games.

The board agreed to investigate the purchase of plexi-glass panes for installation in broken windows. It was pointed out plexi-glass is much stronger than regular glass and the cost is only about 73 cents more per pane. Raymond Rolley, clerk, is to obtain the exact prices.

ROLLEY reported a new freezer has been installed at the Fairview cafeteria and the one there has been transferred to the high school cafeteria.

He said Ogilvie's of East Liverpool has replaced a refrigerator, freezer, three electric stoves and a washer and drier in the home economics department.

A discussion was held on the possibility of establishing a driver training program in the school. Ferrall presented information he had obtained on the program from the Columbiana County Motor Club. He pointed out it would be valuable to the students, explaining those who take such training are eligible for lower auto insurance rates. Myers also spoke in favor of such a program, but action was delayed until after it is learned whether or not the proposed new levy is adopted. There are two qualified instructors in the system at present.

Lisbon Fiscal Dilemma May Require Cuts

LISBON — Reporting on the village government's deepening financial crisis, Clerk - Treasurer Ray Hempstead told Council Monday night the corporation may be unable to meet its payrolls unless all departments cut expenses.

Bills totaling $9,250 are due against all funds, Hempstead said. There is a total of $3,940 due from the general fund, with just a little over half that amount available, he added.

Hempstead said he hopes the village will receive approximately $6,000 in a settlement of intangible taxes from the county around the end of August.

Council signed the vouchers but Hempstead was ordered to pay the bills only as money became available. He will write to all creditors, advising them of the village's situation.

One of the good notes at the meeting was a letter from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., advising that consumers will get a decrease of half a cent per thousand cubic feet of gas beginning Sept. 1.

School patrol costs were also discussed. Council has one woman as a guard, which averages about half the cost of a man and will ask the Board of Education for a decrease in the amount paid the man for a more uniform rate.

Councilman Joseph Dornon said he will attend a meeting of the Ohio Governors Commission on Aging in Salem Thursday.

Council's budget hearing with Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, Auditor Kenneth Bell and Treasurer Vincent Judge will be held Sept. 28.

The Lions Club street fair Sept. 27-29 was again discussed as the group will block state highways in Lisbon from 5 to midnight the three nights.

After lengthy discussion, Council agreed to the closing of the state routes if properly detoured and policed during these hours to avoid any traffic problems.

High School Principal George Nace Jr. has resigned from the Sadie VanFossan Swimming Pool Commission and Mayor Dean Stockman said he would appoint a successor. Nace had been on the commission since the pool has been in operation and the first year he was manager.

The State Highway Patrol requested two free parking spaces on N. Beaver St., along the County Court, so that traffic offenders will have a place to park when in for hearings.

The Democratic Club presented a 50 star flag for the Council chambers. The flag was obtained from Rep. Wayne L. Hays and was flown over the capitol. The flag replaces the 49-star flag also presented Council by the Democrats.

Council will go back on two meetings a month in September with its first scheduled Sept. 10 at 7:30 p. m.

Oldest In Peace Corps To Aid Young Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—The oldest Peace Corps volunteer leaves today to give a hand to a young republic.

Oscar Haugen, 69, flies out of Idlewild Airport bound for Tunisia with 39 other experts in the care and use of heavy road building equipment.

Was he excited about setting up shop in Africa and getting into what is usually considered a young man's game?

"No," said Haugen. "I travel quite a bit."

In 1931, his wife, 3-month-old daughter and 4-year-old son died in a fire that burned their home to the ground. Only Haugen and a son, 8, survived.

Six years later the son was dead of a brain tumor after an accident.

Haugen picked up stakes and began moving, quitting his job as foreman for a road building company near his home in Argyle, Minn.

He helped build an ordnance depot in Minneapolis, a highway in Alaska. Then he ranged farther, to Iceland and Newfoundland, where he worked on airport projects.

For the last eight years Haugen has been home, helping four brothers run the family farm.

Now the Peace Corps. Why did he want to get moving again?

"I want to help other people," he said. "I want to see what I can do to encourage other people to overcome their troubles."

Haugen's party of heavy equipment specialists were requested by the Tunisian government, to get construction work rolling there.

Haugen will help maintain the equipment and teach the Tunisians to operate tractors, bulldozers and other machinery.

40 Attend Reunion At Lisbon For Family Of Jacob Culler

The annual Jacob Culler family reunion was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Culler of W. High St., Lisbon, with 40 relatives from Cleveland, Leetonia, Elkton, Unity, Salem and Signal present for the picnic dinner.

Mrs. Bessie Applegate of Lisbon was the oldest guest and Martha Jane Culler, 5-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Culler, the youngest. Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of Cleveland came the farthest.

Officers re-elected for 1963 were Mrs. Harley Culler, president; Mrs. Paul Peppel of Columbiana, vice president, and Mrs. Ralph Dickey of Signal, secretary-treasurer.

The 1963 reunion will be held Aug. 18 at the Culler home.

Chillik Reunion Held
The Chillik family reunion was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Chillik of the Salem Rd. 24 relatives enjoyed the picnic dinner.

Those present included Mrs. Elizabeth Sloss of St. Charles, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Chester Anderson of Salem, Mrs. Helen Tuk of Meyersdale, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chillik and family and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright and family of Akron, Mrs. Ray Beckman and daughter, Lynn, of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Blair Lewis and family of Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baughman of Albuquerque, N. M., who came here to attend the reunion, cut short their visit locally and had to return Friday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Anderson.

1963 Reunion Set
The 1963 reunion will be held July 7.

Mrs. Dan Vargo of W. Lincoln Way entertained the Lisbon Cardette Club Friday evening.

Prizes for 500 went to Mrs. Cecil McCowin, Mrs. Donald Elkins and Mrs. Bernard Sweeney.

3 Resign, 5 Join Faculty

Five teachers were employed and the resignations of three others were accepted when the Midland Board of Education met Monday night.

The new faculty members include Ronald Markel, a mathematics teacher, who also will be assistant varsity football coach; Joseph Shavasta, commercial; Mrs. Robert Needs, English, and Paul Kepple, science, all in the high school, and Mrs. Eiva Kunkle, who will be fifth grade teacher at the 4th St. building.

Markel will replace Gerald LaValle, who has been named head junior high football coach.

The resignations included those of Darrell Stillwagon, English teacher and faculty manager of athletics, who has accepted a position in Akron; Miss Monica Shone, an English teacher who is going to Perryopolis, and Robert Lewis, a mathematics instructor.

The board also hired Mrs. Mabel Edwards, Mrs. Emma Uccellini and Mrs. Antoinette Wells as a part-time janitresses at the high school.

Routine business also was transacted.

Hammondsville Man Due Hearing In Crash

William H. Burton, 43, of Hammondsville is slated to receive a hearing Saturday at 10 a. m. before Judge Helen Huntsman of Toronto on a charge of failing to halt in the assured clear distance.

Burton was cited Sunday morning after his pickup truck struck the rear of a car driven by Mark S. Abrams, 53, of 810 Main St., Wellsville.

Court To Pick Lawyer For Defendant, 70

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Common Pleas Court plans to appoint an attorney Albert G. Knaian, 70, charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of a prominent attorney.

Knaian was arraigned Monday and said he had no money to hire an attorney. Police say he admitted shooting Joseph Robert Sagmeister on June 26 because the attorney allegedly wronged him in the settlement of an estate.

City Man To End Stay Of 2 Weeks In Fallout Shelter

An East Liverpool serviceman is scheduled to emerge above ground Wednesday at the end of a two-week stay in a fallout shelter at Bethesda, Md., as one of 100 volunteers participating in a test that started Aug. 1.

He is Navy Airman Apprentice Kenneth L. Hawthorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Hawthorne, 311 W. 9th St.

While in the shelter, 90 enlisted men and two officers have been served one hot meal and one cold meal every day. The daily diet is 2,000 calories. Eight of the 100 men participating observed the test from outside the shelter by closed circuit television.

The enlisted men, all recently detached from the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., range in age from 17 to the early 20's. Most of them are single.

Mother-In-Law Sued In Marriage Breakup

NEW YORK (AP) — Leslie B. Morrisett of Greenwich, Conn., claims his mother-in-law helped break up his marriage of 28 years, and he is suing her for a half-million dollars damages.

In the suit filed in federal court Monday, Morrisett said Mrs. Clover Boldt Johanson of New York City persuaded her daughter to leave him and move to Palm Beach, Florida, where on July 13 she began a divorce action which Morrisett is contesting.

Soviet A-Tests Slow Norway's Fish Probe

SVOLVAER, Norway (AP) — The Soviet nuclear tests in the arctic have forced the Norwegian Oceanographic Institute to curtail its investigations of fish in the Barents Sea.

Steinar Olsen, an institute scientist, said the Russians have closed off half the ocean area where the investigations were planned.

Siding Damaged With Slingshots; 3 Youths Nabbed

The parents of three 14-year-old boys have agreed to pay for damage inflicted with slingshots Monday night on recently - installed aluminum siding of a Beechwood home, police reported.

Everett Horner, 135 Beechwood St., reported the damage to police at 7:57 p.m. yesterday. He said it was caused by three boys firing stones with slingshots. There were dents in two sections of the siding, installed only a few weeks ago, he said.

Patrolman Jerry Adkins located the three boys and talked with their parents, who agreed to confer with Horner and settle the damage, police said. Horner told the officer the arrangement was satisfactory with him.

Officer Adkins told the three youths another violation will result in a citation to Juvenile Court.

Rhodes Defends Plan For Industrial Boost

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) The Republican candidate for governor says his proposal for industrial expansion "represents the tool necessary to put Ohio back in the new jobs and industrial development race."

State Auditor James A. Rhodes told a Perry County GOP rally here Monday night that new jobs, averaging 10,000 a year, will not support population gains, estimated at 150,000 a year. He said his proposal for Ohio industrial expansion will create 200,000 new jobs.

Rhodes said a governor of Ohio should be the state's No. 1 salesman, working with the other branches of state government to expand and diversify the economic base to assure jobs for all.

Truck Driver Victim Of $5,000 Robbery

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — An Ohio-bound truck driver was robbed of an estimated $5,000 at a stop light here Monday.

Howard Mimms, 35, of Indianapolis said two men who had followed his truck for a long distance along U.S. 40 took the money when he stopped at a traffic light. Mimms was headed for the Blue Bird Pie Co. in Dayton with the money which represented receipts for a load of pies.

Taft Assails Plan On Trade Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles P. Taft, former Cincinnati mayor, attacked an amendment to the trade expansion bill during testimony before the Senate Finance Committee.

Taft, brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, R-Ohio, is general counsel of the Committee for a National Trade Program. The committee has been a consistent supporter of a liberal program.

Taft labeled the amendment, proposed by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., as "37 varieties of protectionism." The amendment would make 37 changes in the proposed expansion bill and has been a rallying point of many industries opposed to the bill. Taft said the Bush Amendment would make meaningful trade agreements impossible.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Unsliced loaves of very soft French bread sometimes dry out before you get half way through them. . . and a whole loaf that is frozen is hard to slice.

If I know I cannot use this bread quickly, I slice it while it is nice and fresh, and freeze it in its own bag or a plastic bag, removing individual slices as needed. Thawing a slice or two takes but a short time.

Why not keep six or seven slices from fresh loaves of different kinds of bread frozen in plastic bags and "ready to go." You can keep several different kinds going in the bread box this way.

I use a potato peeler for peeling eggplant, using a saving motion. This takes a little time to get used to but it works especially good if the eggplant is firm. I also use my potato peeler for peeling firm apples.

Cake Artistry

DEAR HELOISE: I love to decorate cakes, and not being a professional, I found that a piece of string or thread, dipped in a little cake coloring and laid gently across a cake is great.

Be sure the string is a little longer than the width of your cake. Pick up the string each time and continue making tick-tack-toe marks across the icing. Makes a mighty pretty cake.

Save Those

DEAR HELOISE: Don't throw away the candle stubs left from your candelabra. I have found that these are excellent for starting charcoal fires.

Place the candle among the charcoal and light it, then pour on your charcoal starter fluid.

If you don't want to go to the expense of using charcoal fire starter fluid, the candle itself, when mixed among newspapers, is an excellent starter.

Librarians Tip

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell your readers not to use a dust-cloth when dusting gilt-edged books. Rubbing with a cloth removes the gilt from the edge of the leaves.

I have found that in dusting leather books, especially Bibles . . . a cloth seems to rub the dust in. My solution in our library is to use a feather duster.

Hunting License Sale

Will Open Wednesday

LISBON — Harold Pickering, hunting and fishing license agent for the Columbiana County Fish and Game Association, has announced that hunting licenses will go on sale Wednesday at Kuhn's Hardware, Morgan's Drug Store and Pickering's store here and the Evans store in Elkton.

Deer licenses have not been received. Small game licenses are required by hunters starting Aug. 31. Fishing licenses issued this year are good until Feb. 28, 1963.

Money from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses is used by the club for conservation purposes such as release of small game and for fish re-stocking, according to Richard T. Mason, secretary of the Fish and Game Association.

More Data Due On Expressway For Cincinnati

WASHINGTON (AP) — Additional engineering and economic information is to be supplied this week in an attempt to work out an interstate expressway to circle Cincinnati.

Highway officials from Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana met Monday with Federal Highway Administrator Rex M. Whitton. The states propose to add a $44 million stretch to the planned interstate system around Cincinnati.

As outlined by the states, 7.1 of the additional requested mileage would be in Ohio at a cost of $11,805,000; 13.4 miles in Kentucky at $16,882,000 and 3.7 in Indiana at $15,724,000. Also involved are bridges over the Ohio River between Ohio and Kentucky and between Kentucky and Indiana.

A federal spokesman said it was hoped a final decision could be reached next week.

The major problem is the bureau's reluctance to use its dwindling interstate mileage reserve for the additional miles requested by the three states to complete the Cincinnati loop.

Girl Killed, 2 Persons Hurt In 1-Car Mishap

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A 13-year-old West Virginia girl was killed and two persons were injured Monday night when their car hit a median on Interstate 71 and rolled over three times.

Highway patrolmen identified the girl as Barbara Christian of Huntington, W. Va. The driver of the vehicle, Mrs. Dolores R. Seagraves, 31, of Warren, was taken to University Hospital in Columbus. Her husband, George F., 33, was hospitalized at Mansfield General Hospital.

Patrolmen said the accident was under investigation. It occurred southwest of U.S. 30 in Richland County.

Pegler, Hearst Syndicate Part After 18 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Columnist Westbrook Pegler and the Hearst-owned King Features Syndicate have parted company.

An announcement from the King Features office Monday said "too many irreconcilable differences on vital matters have existed between the parties to continue a workable relationship."

Pegler, 68, had written a controversial column of opinion for King Features for 18 years.

Pegler's column was carried by many newspapers outside the Hearst group.

Officials of the Hearst organization declined to say whether a blast at King Features and members of the Hearst family by Pegler last week had anything to do with ending his contract. Pegler previously had complained—sometimes publicly—that he was being censored.

Speaking last week before a meeting of the Anti-Communist Christian Crusade at Tulsa, Okla., Pegler described William Randolph Hearst Jr. and other sons of the late publisher as "lacking character, ability or loyalty."

Vote Set Aug. 30 On Wheat Quotas

LISBON — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has set Aug. 30 as the date for the referendum on wheat marketing quotas for the 1963 crop.

In general, the 1963 wheat program under existing legislation provides for farm acreage allotments set on the basis of a minimum 55,000,000 acre national wheat allotment.

Minimum price support would be at a national average of $1.82 per bushel (75 percent of parity) if farmers approve marketing quotas by a two-thirds vote in the referendum.

If farmers disapprove marketing quotas, support would be at a national average of $1.21 per bushel for cooperators (those who stay within their acreage allotments), with no support for non-cooperators. These and other program details were announced on a stand-by basis on June 26, according to Earl Lora, office executive of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Picnic Planned By Ruritan Club

The Board of Directors of the Southern Ruritan Club completed plans for the annual picnic at Hammond Park Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 5 at a meeting Monday night at the home of Pete Mase of 7th St. and Broadway, Wellsville.

The picnic will be a joint affair with the Salineville Ruritan Club. John Baker, Southern club president, and James Smith, Salineville club president, will be in charge.

A softball game will be held between the men of the clubs and there will be games and contests for the children. Prizes will be provided.

The picnic lunch will be served at 2 p. m. The Southern club also will hold a public chicken barbecue Wednesday, Sept. 12, at the Highland-town Grange Hall.

On Losing Side

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's Democratic senators, Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche, voted on the losing side late Monday when the Senate defeated an amendment which sought to give specific authority to the State Department for foreign negotiations in the communications satellite bill. The Senate defeated the amendment by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., 56-19.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'll come right to the point. I'm looking for a wife. First I'll tell you what I have to offer then I'll tell you what I want.

I'm 48, a graduate engineer (University of Colorado) physically active, 5 feet 10, weight 140. I have a good income and can live comfortably till the end of my days.

I'm looking for an old-fashioned girl who likes mountain life — not just for a weekend, but all year round. She'll have to put up with some mighty cold weather, but she'll have clean, fresh air to breathe, and before her eyes at all times will be the most magnificent scenery in the world.

I want a woman who likes wild fruit and berries and would be willing to pick and prepare them. She'll have to clean fish and rabbits and wild birds. She should like swimming, but remember, a mountain stream is not a heated pool. She'll have to handle a canoe, too.

I can't live in the city because of sinus trouble, so don't put me in touch with a woman who thinks she can talk me into it. I ought to tell you I've been married and divorced twice. Neither one of my ex-wives could take the cold weather. Thank you. — GRAND LAKE, COLORADO.

Dear Grand: You're not looking for a wife — you want Tonto, and the Lone Ranger already has him.

Don't Risk Trouble

Dear Ann: My mother makes her home with us and we all love her. Her presence has made it possible for me to do many things which otherwise would be out of the question.

For the past several years mother has come along with us on our vacation. My husband was not happy about the arrangement but he said nothing. Last summer she decided to visit her brother so my husband and I and the children took a cross-country trip without her. He let me know it was the grandest vacation ever. I got the hint, but made no point of it.

This year he attempted to talk my mother into going to visit her sister, but she said she'd prefer to go with us. He has been sullen and uncommunicative ever since. Now he wants me to tell my mother that we want to take a vacation without her. How can I do it? Please tell me if he has the right to ask such a thing. — TORN ASUNDER.

Dear Torn: If your husband would prefer a vacation without his mother-in-law he is entitled to it and you shouldn't feel guilty about telling her so. If you are not mature enough to speak up, your husband's resentment may take some odd shapes and forms. You would then be in for real trouble. Don't risk it.

What Mystery?

Dear Ann: Something is bothering me and perhaps you can clear up the mystery. I've been going with this very nice fellow for over a year.

Freddie is a traveling salesman and is in town every other weekend, from Thursday through Sunday. He gives me his itinerary so I can have letters waiting for him on the road. I write him about three letters a week, but he has yet to write me even a post card. He says he'd much rather hear my voice, so he telephones.

Freddie seems to get a great deal of pleasure from my letters. Why is it that he refuses to write to me? Can you clear up the mystery? — BAFFLED.

Dear Baffled: It could be that Freddie is unsure of his grammar, or spelling, or perhaps he is self-conscious about his penmanship. This is the case with a good many people who are reluctant to write letters. Often they are not even aware of these feelings of inadequacy.

And then, of course, there is always the cautious type who won't put anything in writing.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Save Those

DEAR HELOISE: Don't throw away the candle stubs left from your candelabra. I have found that these are excellent for starting charcoal fires.

Place the candle around the charcoal and light it, then pour on your charcoal starter fluid.

If you don't want to go to the expense of using charcoal fire starter fluid, the candle itself, when mixed among newspapers, is an excellent starter.

For The Birds

DEAR HELOISE: Plastic doilies look ever so darling on the floor of a bird cage . . . especially when you are having a party. My little birdie just loves it! So clean too. Only requires a quick rinse under the water faucet.

Librarians Tip

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell your readers not to use a dust-cloth when dusting gilt-edged books. Rubbing with a cloth removes the gilt from the edge of the leaves.

I have found that in dusting leather books, especially Bibles . . . a cloth seems to rub the dust in. My solution in my library is to use a feather duster.

Pegler, Hearst Syndicate Part After 18 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Columnist Westbrook Pegler and the Hearst-owned King Features Syndicate have parted company.

An announcement from the King Features office Monday said "too many irreconcilable differences on vital matters have existed between the parties to continue a workable relationship."

Pegler, 68, had written a controversial column of opinion for King Features for 18 years.

Pegler's column was carried by many newspapers outside the Hearst group.

Officials of the Hearst organization declined to say whether a blast at King Features and members of the Hearst family by Pegler last week had anything to do with ending his contract. Pegler previously had complained—sometimes publicly—that he was being censored.

Speaking last week before a meeting of the Anti-Communist Christian Crusade at Tulsa, Okla., Pegler described William Randolph Hearst Jr. and other sons of the late publisher as "lacking character, ability or loyalty."

Vote Set Aug. 30 On Wheat Quotas

LISBON — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has set Aug. 30 as the date for the referendum on wheat marketing quotas for the 1963 crop.

In general, the 1963 wheat program under existing legislation provides for farm acreage allotments set on the basis of a minimum 55,000,000 acre national wheat allotment.

Minimum price support would be at a national average of $1.82 per bushel (75 percent of parity) if farmers approve marketing quotas by a two-thirds vote in the referendum.

If farmers disapprove marketing quotas, support would be at a national average of $1.21 per bushel for cooperators (those who stay within their acreage allotments), with no support for non-cooperators. These and other program details were announced on a stand-by basis on June 26, according to Earl Lora, office executive of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Picnic Planned By Ruritan Club

The Board of Directors of the Southern Ruritan Club completed plans for the annual picnic at Hammond Park Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 5 at a meeting Monday night at the home of Pete Mase of 7th St. and Broadway, Wellsville.

The picnic will be a joint affair with the Salineville Ruritan Club. John Baker, Southern club president, and James Smith, Salineville club president, will be in charge.

A softball game will be held between the men of the clubs and there will be games and contests for the children. Prizes will be provided.

The picnic lunch will be served at 2 p. m. The Southern club also will hold a public chicken barbecue Wednesday, Sept. 12, at the Highland-town Grange Hall.

On Losing Side

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's Democratic senators, Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche, voted on the losing side late Monday when the Senate defeated an amendment which sought to give specific authority to the State Department for foreign negotiations in the communications satellite bill. The Senate defeated the amendment by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., 56-19.

City Man Injured In Softball Game

A city man hurt playing softball and a youth injured in a fall from a bridge were among five area residents treated Monday at City Hospital.

Joseph McNicol, 28, of 228 W. 9th St. was treated last night for an injury to the right knee received while playing ball.

Gary Cochran, 14, son of Robert Cochran of McKee St., suffered a wound of the right side of the chest which his father said was received in a fall from a bridge near home while playing.

Ray Lynch, 2, son of William Lynch of Rogers, suffered a cut of the scalp in a fall while playing.

Blaine Beaver, 45, of Grimms Bridge Rd., employee of the Mike Pusateri Excavating Co., was treated for an injury to the left arm suffered when struck by a piece of steel at work.

Donna Kilby, 1, daughter of Herman Kilby of Glenmoor, received an injury when she fell on a nail.

Liberty Players Plan More Plays

Plans for future productions were discussed at a meeting of the Liberty Players at a meeting Monday night at the Wellsville Carnegie Library.

Residents from the Tri-State area, members presented their first play last week at the Liberty Theater in Wellsville.

It was a three-act comedy which was well received. It was decided tentatively last night to present another comedy.

Several scripts will be read within the next week. Another meeting will be held Monday night at 8 at the theater to begin making a selection.

Casting will not begin for two to three weeks. All money raised by the group is being turned back into the organization to purchase needed costumes and assure the future of the organization.

A constitution and by-laws are being considered and officers will be elected when they are adopted. Mrs. Florine Broderick is serving as temporary president.

Gen. Dunning Dies

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Brig. Gen. John A. Dunning, 48, assistant chief of staff for planning with the U.S. Forces command in Viet Nam, died Monday in the Philippines. U.S. authorities said he died of a spinal ailment at Clark Air Force Base where he was flown from Saigon 10 days ago.

More Data Due On Expressway For Cincinnati

WASHINGTON (AP)—Additional engineering and economic information is to be supplied this week in an attempt to work out an interstate expressway to circle Cincinnati.

Highway officials from Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana met Monday with Federal Highway Administrator Rex M. Whitton. The states propose to add a $44 million stretch to the planned interstate system around Cincinnati.

As outlined by the states, 7.1 of the additional requested mileage would be in Ohio at a cost of $11,805,000; 13.4 miles in Kentucky at $16,862,000 and 3.7 in Indiana at $15,724,000. Also involved are bridges over the Ohio River between Ohio and Kentucky and between Kentucky and Indiana.

A federal spokesman said it was hoped a final decision could be reached next week.

The major problem is the bureau's reluctance to use its dwindling interstate mileage reserve for the additional miles requested by the three states to complete the Cincinnati loop.

Girl Killed, 2 Persons Hurt In 1-Car Mishap

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A 13-year-old West Virginia girl was killed and two persons were injured Monday night when their car hit a median on Interstate 71 and rolled over three times.

Highway patrolmen identified the girl as Barbara Christian of Huntington, W. Va. The driver of the vehicle, Mrs. Dolores R. Seagraves, 31, of Warren, was taken to University Hospital in Columbus. Her husband, George F., 33, was hospitalized at Mansfield General Hospital.

Patrolmen said the accident was under investigation. It occurred southwest of U.S. 30 in Richland County.

Hunting License Sale

LISBON — Harold Pickering, hunting and fishing license agent for the Columbiana County Fish and Game Association, has announced that hunting licenses will go on sale Wednesday at Kuhn's Hardware, Morgan's Drug Store and Pickering's store here and the Evans store in Elkton.

Deer licenses have not been received. Small game licenses are required by hunters starting Aug. 31. Fishing licenses issued this year are good until Feb. 28, 1963.

Money from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses is used by the club for conservation purposes such as release of small game and for fish re-stocking, according to Richard T. Mason, secretary of the Fish and Game Association.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'll come to the point. I'm looking for a wife. First I'll tell you what I have to offer then I'll tell you what I want.

I'm 48, a graduate engineer (University of Colorado) physically active, 5 feet 10, weight 140. I have a good income and can live comfortably till the end of my days.

I'm looking for an old-fashioned girl who likes mountain life — not just for a weekend, but all year round. She'll have to put up with some mighty cold weather, but she'll have clean, fresh air to breathe, and before her eyes at all times will be the most magnificent scenery in the world.

I want a woman who likes wild fruit and berries and would be willing to pick and prepare them. She'll have to clean fish and rabbits and wild birds. She should like swimming, but remember, a mountain stream is not a heated pool. She'll have to handle a canoe, too.

I can't live in the city because of sinus trouble, so don't put me in touch with a woman who thinks she can talk me into it. I ought to tell you I've been married and divorced twice. Neither one of my ex-wives could take the cold weather. Thank you. — GRAND LAKE, COLORADO.

Dear Grand: You're not looking for a wife — you want Tonto, and the Lone Ranger already has him.

Don't Risk Trouble

Dear Ann: My mother makes her home with us and we all love her. Her presence has made it possible for me to do many things which otherwise would be out of the question.

For the past several years mother has come along with us on our vacation. My husband was not happy about the arrangement but he said nothing. Last summer she decided to visit her brother so my husband and I and the children took a cross-country trip without her. He let me know it was the grandest vacation ever. I got the hint, but made no point of it.

This year he attempted to talk my mother into going to visit her sister, but she said she'd prefer to go with us. He has been sullen and uncommunicative ever since. Now he wants me to tell my mother that we want to take a vacation without her. How can I do it? Please tell me if he has the right to ask such a thing. — TORN ASUNDER.

Dear Torn: If your husband would prefer a vacation without his mother-in-law he is entitled to it and you shouldn't feel guilty about telling her so. If you are not mature enough to speak up, your husband's resentment may take some odd shapes and forms. You would then be in for real trouble. Don't risk it.

What Mystery?

Dear Ann: Something is bothering me and perhaps you can clear up the mystery. I've been going with this very nice fellow for over a year.

Freddie is a traveling salesman and is in town every other weekend, from Thursday through Sunday. He gives me his itinerary so I can have letters waiting for him on the road. I write him about three letters a week, but he has yet to write me even a post card. He says he'd much rather hear my voice, so he telephones.

Freddie seems to get a great deal of pleasure from my letters. Why is it that he refuses to write to me? Can you clear up the mystery? — BAFFLED.

Dear Baffled: It could be that Freddie is unsure of his grammar, or spelling, or perhaps he is self-conscious about his penmanship. This is the case with a good many people who are reluctant to write letters. Often they are not even aware of these feelings of inadequacy.

And then, of course, there is Ever sprinkle pie meringue with flaked coconut before browning? Pretty and delicious! This topping is good on any of the creamy pie fillings — lemon, coconut, chocolate.

Elyria Girl And Resident Of East Liverpool United

Attired in a silk organza and Chantilly lace gown, Miss Joyce Louise Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Nash of Elyria R.D. 3, became the bride of James Robert Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Duncan, 575 Williams Ave., Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Elyria by Fr. Michael J. Schneid. The altar was banked with baskets of gladiolus, mums and palms.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was styled with a cameo neckline enhanced with iridescent and short sleeves. The floor-length skirt featured a V in the front and triple folds in the back.

Her elbow-length illusion veil was held in place by a crown of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of gladiolus and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Anthony Teper was matron of honor and wore a sky-blue silk organza sheath with matching overskirt, styled with scoop-neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. Her headpiece was a blue cabbage rose with matching face veil. She carried a cascade of yellow and white daisies.

The bride's mother was attired in a beige lace sheath over Nile green taffeta with beige accessories. She wore a corsage of white gladiolus. The bridegroom's mother wore a white and blue print crepe sheath with white accessories and a corsage of blue carnations.

George Destal was best man and ushers were John Gungyula and Fred Parsh, fraternity brothers of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Teper is of Elyria, Destal and Parsh are of Cleveland and Gungyula is of Salem.

Mr., Mrs. Robert Parsons Now Reside In California

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Parsons, newlyweds, are residing at Costa Mesa, Calif., following a cross-country honeymoon. Mrs. Parsons is the former Miss Roberta Louise Dominici, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dominici of Ohio Ave., Midland, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parsons of Midland Heights.

The double-ring ceremony was performed the afternoon of July 28 at 2 o'clock at the home of Justice of the Peace Joseph Gerace of Rochester.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white brocade gown styled with oval neckline, long, pointed sleeves, sculptured bodice and a bell-shaped skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of sheer illusion was held in place by a pearl crown.

She carried white carnations on a lace-covered Bible, borrowed from Miss Anna Marie Monaco of Midland, who was maid of honor. She observed the familiar wedding traditions.

The maid of honor wore an apricot silk cocktail dress styled with cap sleeves, oval neckline and bell-shaped skirt. Her headpiece was a matching cabbage rose held in place by a short veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride's mother wore a brown dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a lilac outfit and her corsage was an orchid.

The bride's parents entertained at a wedding dinner at the St. Anthony Club in Midland following the ceremony and a reception for 150 guests was held there in the evening. A four-tier wedding cake centered the buffet table.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and was employed at the Westinghouse Corp. in Beaver. Her husband attended Midland High School and works at Costa Mesa with a contracting firm.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Dominici and son, Ronald, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dominici and son, Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dominici, Mr. and Mrs. John Rohay and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borga and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. James Mazzetti and Mrs. Wayne Meade, all of Harwick, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Tropeano and daughters of Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Krepps and Mrs. Imogene Byers, all of Beaver.

DiMaggio Quit Position To Be Near Marilyn

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joe DiMaggio quit his $100,000-a-year job to be near his ex-wife Marilyn Monroe, says DiMaggio's former employer.

V. H. Monette of Smithfield, Va., said Monday the one-time New York Yankee baseball star resigned Aug. 1 as a vice president of a company which supplies military post exchanges. DiMaggio reportedly was deeply worried about his ex-wife days before she died.

Two women close to the late actress have left Hollywood.

The blonde star's personal press agent, Pat Newcomb, was reported "no longer with us" at the Arthur Jacobs Agency, and a Hollywood trade paper said she had been fired.

Marilyn's housekeeper, Eunice Murray, who found her dead of an overdose of sleeping pills last Aug. 5, has checked out of her Santa Monica apartment. She left no forwarding address.

The Hollywood Reporter said Miss Newcomb had gone to Hyannis Port, Mass., as guest of the Peter Lawford, Patricia Kennedy Lawford is the President's sister.

In Smithfield, Va., Monette said he believed DiMaggio was still in love with Miss Monroe, though their marriage had lasted only nine months.

Cub Pack Committee Sets Swimming Party

Plans for the monthly pack meeting and a family swimming party were discussed at a meeting of the planning committee of Cub Scout Pack 36 of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Ruth Diddle of Oakmont.

The pack meeting will be held Aug. 24 at 7 p. m. at Thompson Park and will feature slides. Den 6 will serve refreshments and Den 11 will have the opening flag ceremony.

The swimming party will be held Sunday at Lake Samary at Glenmoor and will feature a coverd meal at 4:30 p. m.

David O'Hanlon, cubmaster, presided.

Next committee meeting is Sept. 14 at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Muslovski of the Longs Run Rd.

Jackie Sleeps Late After Dinner Party

RAVELLO, Italy (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy slept late today after a post-midnight dinner party on the moonlit isle of Capri, but 4-year-old Caroline was off again early for another day on the beach.

Mrs. Kennedy went to Capri on the Yacht of Italian automobile king Gianni Agnelli.

Dinner for 15 was served at midnight. Afterward Mrs. Kennedy and several of the dinner party strolled around Capri's main square.

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Kenny Burgett, 12, of Rt. 1, Orient, was killed Monday night when he was pinned by an overturned dump truck just south of Ohio 782 in Pickaway County.

Elyria Girl And Resident Of East Liverpool United

Attired in a silk organza and Chantilly lace gown, Miss Joyce Louise Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Nash of Elyria R.D. 3, became the bride of James Robert Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Duncan, 575 Williams Ave., Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Elyria by Fr. Michael J. Schneid. The altar was banked with baskets of gladioli, mums and palms.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was styled with a cameo neckline enhanced with iridescent and short sleeves. The floor-length skirt featured a V in the front and triple folds in the back.

Her elbow-length illusion veil was held in place by a crown of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of gladioli and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Anthony Teper was matron of honor and wore a sky-blue silk organza sheath with matching overskirt, styled with scooped neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. Her headpiece was a blue cabbage rose with matching face veil. She carried a cascade of yellow and white daisies.

The bride's mother was attired in a beige lace sheath over Nile green taffeta with beige accessories. She wore a corsage of white gladioli. The bridegroom's mother wore a white and blue print crepe sheath with white accessories and a corsage of blue carnations.

George Destal was best man and ushers were John Gungyula and Fred Parsh, fraternity brothers of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Teper is of Elyria, Destal and Parsh are of Cleveland and Gungyula is of Salem.

MRS. J. R. DUNCAN
She Was Joyce Louise Nash.

Hostesses were Miss Carol Nash, cousin of the bride, Miss Kimberly Ballas and Mrs. Richard White.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Midview High School of Elyria and a 1962 graduate of Kent State University, where she majored in speech and hearing therapy. She was associated with the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority and Sigma Alpha Eta, speech and hearing honorary. She is employed by the Ypsilanti (Mich.) public schools.

The bridegroom is a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School and 1962 graduate of Kent State, where he majored in forestry. He is associated with Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity and is studying for a master's degree in forestry at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

The couple will reside at Ann Arbor after a wedding trip. The bride wore a green, gold and white print dress with white accessories for traveling.

Mr., Mrs. Robert Parsons Now Reside In California

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Parsons, newlyweds, are residing at Costa Mesa, Calif., following a cross-country honeymoon. Mrs. Parsons is the former Miss Roberta Louise Dominici, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dominici of Ohio Ave., Midland, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parsons of Midland Heights.

The double-ring ceremony was performed the afternoon of July 28 at 2 o'clock at the home of Justice of the Peace Joseph Gerace of Rochester.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white brocade gown styled with oval neckline, long, pointed sleeves, sculptured bodice and a bell-shaped skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of sheer illusion was held in place by a pearl crown.

She carried white carnations on a lace-covered Bible, borrowed from Miss Anna Marie Monaco of Midland, who was maid of honor. She observed the familiar wedding traditions.

The maid of honor wore an apricot silk cocktail dress styled with cap sleeves, oval neckline and bell-shaped skirt. Her headpiece was a matching cabbage rose held in place by a short veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride's mother wore a brown dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a lilac outfit and her corsage was an orchid.

The bride's parents entertained at a wedding dinner at the St. Anthony Club in Midland following the ceremony and a reception for 150 guests was held there in the evening. A four-tier wedding cake centered the buffet table.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and was employed at the Westinghouse Corp. in Beaver. Her husband attended Midland High School and works at Costa Mesa with a contracting firm.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Dominici and son, Ronald, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dominici and son, Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dominici, Mr. and Mrs. John Rohay and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borgia and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. James Mazzetti and Mrs. Wayne Meade, all of Harwick, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Tropeano and daughters of Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Krepps and Mrs. Imogene Byers, all of Beaver.

Actress Betsy Drake Divorces Cary Grant

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Cary Grant and Betsy Drake are no longer man and wife because he "preferred television to talking to me," said the actress.

Miss Drake, 39, won a divorce Monday in Superior Court when she testified, "he told me he was bored with me—that he didn't want to be married any more."

They married in 1949, the first time for her, the third for him.

DiMaggio Quit Position To Be Near Marilyn

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joe DiMaggio quit his $100,000-a-year job to be near his ex-wife Marilyn Monroe, says DiMaggio's former employer.

V. H. Monette of Smithfield, Va., said Monday the one-time New York Yankee baseball star resigned Aug. 1 as a vice president of a company which supplies military post exchanges. DiMaggio reportedly was deeply worried about his ex-wife days before she died.

Two women close to the late actress have left Hollywood.

The blonde star's personal press agent, Pat Newcomb, was reported "no longer with us" at the Arthur Jacobs Agency, and a Hollywood trade paper said she had been fired.

Marilyn's housekeeper, Eunice Murray, who found her dead of an overdose of sleeping pills last Aug. 5, has checked out of her Santa Monica apartment. She left no forwarding address.

The Hollywood Reporter said Miss Newcomb had gone to Hyannis Port, Mass., as guest of the Peter Lawford. Patricia Kennedy Lawford is the President's sister.

In Smithfield, Va., Monette said he believed DiMaggio was still in love with Miss Monroe, though their marriage had lasted only nine months.

Cub Pack Committee Sets Swimming Party

Plans for the monthly pack meeting and a family swimming party were discussed at a meeting of the planning committee of Cub Scout Pack 36 of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Ruth Diddle of Oakmont.

The pack meeting will be held Aug. 24 at 7 p. m. at Thompson Park and will feature slides. Den 6 will serve refreshments and Den 11 will have the opening flag ceremony.

The swimming party will be held Sunday at Lake Samary at Glenmoor and will feature a covered meal at 4:30 p. m.

David O'Hanlon, cubmaster, presided.

Next committee meeting is Sept. 14 at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Muslovski of the Longs Run Rd.

Jackie Sleeps Late After Dinner Party

RAVELLO, Italy (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy slept late today after a post-midnight dinner party on the moonlit isle of Capri, but 4-year-old Caroline was off again early for another day on the beach.

Mrs. Kennedy went to Capri on the Yacht of Italian automobile king Gianni Agnelli.

Dinner for 15 was served at midnight. Afterward Mrs. Kennedy and several of the dinner party strolled around Capri's main square.

Walker Hurls EL Pony Stars To 3-1 Win In Regional

Len Fans 13; Locals Face McKeesport

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor
Righthander Len Walker was at his best as his fast ball sped past batter after batter under the lights at Sokol Field near New Kensington Monday night.

Walker's brilliant pitching, which showed him giving up only three hits — all singles — and fanning a host of batters, netted the East Liverpool Pony Leaguers a 3-1 victory over Arkenburl, a team made of all-stars from the New Kensington area.

Tonight East Liverpool returns to the same field at 8:15 to meet another winner from last night—McKeesport. The McKeesport entry took advantage of six errors to defeat Allegheny Valley, 8-2.

The double elimination tournament pits the two losers together tonight at 6 in the first game.

A VICTORY tonight by the amazing East Liverpool squad would leave it as the only undefeated team in the Regional tournament and would put the locals in the driver's seat.

Manager Dean Densmore's outfit, which usually comes from behind to win, took the lead Monday night and kept it.

Walker was the main factor. Aug. 13 proved his lucky day as he struck out 13 Arkenburl batters with his murderous fast ball.

For five innings Walker only faced the necessary 15 batters. There were two hits among the 15 that came to the plate but they went down in order. One runner was cut down on an attempted steal when catcher Clarence Crable threw a perfect strike to second base in the first inning. In the fourth inning, centerfielder Eddie Golden fired a beautiful peg to third base as the runner tried to advance when Walker's attempted pickoff throw at second base went skipping into centerfield.

DURING one streak last night Walker retired four straight batters on strikes and struck out the side in two different innings, including the seventh when he walked the leadoff man and then fanned two pinchhitters and finally catcher Dave Shields for the final out as his teammates mobbed him after the game.

Walker's control wasn't far off either. He walked a batter in the sixth inning and one in the seventh. The one-run scored by Arkenburl was unearned.

Tom Chandler was the losing pitcher but had East Liverpool collapsed for four innings. He gave way to John Stearnman who came on with one out in the sixth inning.

EAST Liverpool knocked hard on the door in the first and second frames by putting runners on second and third with only one out in each inning but failed to score.

It took a solid triple by the left-handed swinging Golden to produce the first marker. Golden led off the fifth inning by sending a hot shot liner over the first base bag. The ball rolled into the corner as the little centerfielder legged it into third standing up.

Tom Hanson was hit in the right elbow by a pitched ball. Hanson then stole second and the Arkenburl catcher fired the ball to second. At that instance Golden streaked home, beating the throw as the umpire ruled he was safe, but the catcher dropped the ball anyhow.

That gave East Liverpool a 1-0 lead. On the same play Hanson was thrown out trying to go to third. Larry Ensinger, East Liverpool's leadoff man, followed with a double and went to third on a passed ball but died there.

East Liverpool came up with two more runs in the sixth inning when Arkenburl's right and center fielders let Burkhardt's high popper drop for a triple.

After Walker had popped up to the first baseman, Nick Marchbanks, the hitting star of the Parkersburg series, sending Burkhardt to left field, sending Burkhardt across with the second run.

MIKE Silliman followed with his second hit of the game and Golden walked to load the bases. Hanson hit a sharp ground ball between second and third which allowed Marchbanks to score from third, but Silliman was forced out at third as Arkenburl's shortstop John Banichar made a neat fielding play to come up with the forefront.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

got by Massey, the East Liverpool shortstop redeemed himself on the very next play by making an outstanding stop on a hard hit ball, plus a long throw to first to retire the side.

THE EAST Liverpool nine continued to hit well, coming up with nine safeties, including a triple and single by Golden, a double and single off the bat of Ensinger and two singles by Silliman.

TOURNAMENT NOTES
EAST Liverpool's players remained overnight Monday and are quartered about two miles from the baseball park.

Densmore expects to start right-hander Jack Myler in tonight's game against McKeesport.

Twins Check Yanks; Tribe Beaten In 2

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Can a senator overrule a general?

Harry Bright has taken the first step toward tackling the ticklish problem.

Responding to a pep talk precipitated by the general's displeasure with his forces, Bright unleashed a home run salvo Monday night that carried Washington's last-place Senators in the American League to a double-header sweep over Cleveland, 11-2 and 3-2.

It started Sunday when General Elwood (Pete) Quesada, president of the Senators, indicated the ax was being sharpened for General Manager Ed Doherty and Manager Mickey Vernon.

When Doherty arrived in Cleveland Monday night, he was confronted with a rather miffed bunch of grumbling Senators. He decided on the pep talk method to close ranks.

"Just because you don't like what's happened is no reason to quit trying," he told the players.

The Senators didn't. They pounded out 16 hits in the first game triumph, including a three-run homer by Bright, then won the nightcap when Bright tagged another three-run shot in the ninth inning.

The second-place Los Angeles Angels closed within 4 1/2 games of league-leading New York by beating Boston 5-1 behind Ted Bowsfield's five-hit pitching while third-place Minnesota knocked off the Yankees 6-4 on Harmon Killebrew's three-run double in the eighth inning.

Those were the only games scheduled in the AL. In the lone National League game, Cincinnati stretched its winning streak to nine games with a 10-2 triumph over Milwaukee.

Bowsfield (8-5), going the distance for the first time this season, had the Red Sox blanked on three hits until the ninth when Ed Bressoud tripled and Frank Malzone singled. The loser was Gene Conley (10-11).

Harmon Killebrew was the big gun for the Twins, going 4-for-5 against the Yankees and smashing a sinking liner with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth inning that eluded Tony Kubek and accounted for the winning runs. Killebrew drove in five runs, moving into the league RBI lead with 85. Ray Moore (8-3) won it in relief with Bud Daley (5-3) taking the loss.

Now in his 10th year as head of the National League club he bought from Fred M. Saigh, Busch and his organization have spent 10 million dollars in ball park improvements and purchase in talent. The result: no pennants, one second place finish and two thirds.

"As far as I'm concerned," the 61-year-old sportsman declared, "I'm at the point where I'd trade just about everybody."
Although Busch didn't say so the "just about everybody" apparently excluded Stan (The Man) Musial, the 41-year-old veteran who holds many major league records and may win his eighth NL batting crown this season.

Busch indicated the front office may be in trouble. He spelled it out, "All my advisors," and named General Manager Bill Devine, chief of player procurement and Walter Shannon and trouble shooter Eddie Stanky.

Only Manager Johnny Keane escaped Busch's anger.
"I can't blame him," Busch said. "In fact, I blame him less than anyone else."

Fisher Swats Homer In Dresden's Victory

Harvey Fisher smashed a three-run homer to lead Dresden A. C. to a 9-8 victory over Ridge Runners in the Slow Pitch League Monday at Thompson Park.

Mike Russell was the winning pitcher, besting Chuck Bolton.

Another game was scheduled, but East End won by forfeit when the Flunkies failed to appear.

Tonight's action features the Collegians against American Billiards. A loss by league-leading Collegians would throw first place into a four-way scramble, with Mets 22 and East End also having a share.

Dr. Brand Named On Mountaineer Athletic Council

West Virginia University has named one of its former track and cross-country stars — a Chester physician — to the university's Athletic Council.

Dr. J. M. Brand, 253 Virginia Ave., a 1932 graduate of the Morgantown school, was named along with Stanley Farr, instructor in physics at WVU.

President Paul A. Miller named Dr. Brand to a two-year term as alumnus member on the council, which administers the intercollegiate athletics program at WVU.

Dr. Brand for 30 years owned the university's 880-yard run record.

Farr was appointed to a three-year term as faculty member. The other new member for the 1962-63 school year is Ward D. Stone Jr. of Morgantown, elected by the students last spring, to a one-year term as representative of the student body.

The Council is comprised of four members of the faculty, two alumni and one student.

Gene Freese Back On Reds Active List

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gene Freese, whose home run bat has been missed by the Cincinnati Reds this year, was back on the active list today for the first time this season, but manager Fred Hutchinson does not know when he will put him into the lineup.

"I can't say. I will use him when I think he can help us. I have no plans for him now," was all the Reds' manager would say.

The veteran third baseman, who hit 26 homers last year, broke his right ankle March 5 while sliding in spring training.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Harry Bright, Senators, went 3-for-5, including three-run homer in 11-2 first game victory over Cleveland, then won second game 3-2 with three-run homer in ninth inning.

Pitching — Jim O'Toole, Reds, pitched six innings of perfect ball, wound up with six-hitter, striking out 12 while walking none in 10-2 triumph over Milwaukee that extended Cincinnati winning streak to nine games.

Reds In Winter Loop

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds will field a team again this year in the Florida Instructional Winter League, general manager Bill DeWitt said today.

Redlegs Win 9th Straight; 6 1/2 From Top

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cincinnati Reds have been written off more times than the First World War debt.

But they won't go away. It was standard practice all last year, and the first thing you knew they were in the World Series—about which the less said the better.

They weren't picked to repeat. Slugging third baseman Gene Freese broke his ankle in spring training.

They were written off after a sluggish start—and again when they blew three straight to the San Francisco Giants in June—and again when they dropped three in a row to the New York Mets, on Aug. 4-5.

So they won their ninth straight Monday night, 10-2, over the Milwaukee Braves, and here they are again, in third place, 6 1/2 games back of the National League—leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Dodgers were idle Monday night, as were the Giants, who are 2 1/2 games off the pace, and the rest of the league.

In American League action, the Minnesota Twins beat the league leading New York Yankees 6-4. The Los Angeles Angels pushed to within 4 1/2 games of the Yanks by beating the Boston Red Sox 5-1. Washington beat the Cleveland Indians twice, 11-2 and 3-2. The White Sox, Detroit, Baltimore and Kansas City were not scheduled.

The Reds used the old formula, tight pitching by one of their young flamethrowers, and the big bat of Frank Robinson, to chop down the Braves, and run their record over their last 28 games to 23-5.

Jim O'Toole, 25-year-old left-hander who won 19 games last season, ran his record to 13-12 as he threw six perfect innings before Roy McMillan reached base on an error leading off the seventh. Lou Johnson and Eddie Mathews then singled and McMillan scored on Hank Aaron's hit.

Robinson, who began defense of his Most Valuable Player award even more feebly than his team did the league crown—he was hitting .246 after six weeks—crashed his second grand slam home run of the year and had five RBIs in all.

3 Local Dogs Score In Kennel Club Meet

In a meet held Sunday at the Canton Armory by the McKinley Kennel Club, three dogs of the local obedience school showed to advantage.

Asta of Tannenwald, a German shepherd owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heckathorn of Hillcrest, Wellsville, added to her winnings by placing fourth in confirmation of the senior group and scoring 195 1/2 points of a possible 200 in obedience work.

Select Princess Gidgit, the Shetland sheepdog owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith of Newell, chalked up another first in the age group of 9-12 months, best of breed, third in working group, and scored 187 1/2 points of a possible 200 in obedience work.

Mi Gingo of Katanga, an African basenji owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton of East Liverpool, captured first in age group 6 to 9 months, best of breed, and third in the final judging of the bound group.

A total of 240 dogs competed.

McKinley To Experiment As Ban Erases Season

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CANTON, Ohio (AP)—McKinley High School, shorn of its inter-scholastic football privileges this fall, will offer plenty of pigskin pyrotechnics despite the ban.

The Bulldogs, long a topflight power, were suspended by the state high school athletic association for using undue influence in the transfer of two students from Portsmouth to Canton. The case was carried all the way to the state Supreme Court.

When the court did not remove the ban, something had to be done about two problems: (1) loss of gate receipts which go into a common fund to finance all sports at four Canton high schools, and (2) the menace to college scholarships for outstanding senior athletes unable to put their talents on display. The Bulldog coaching staff tackled these problems.

Headed by personable Pete Ankney, No. 1 grid mentor, the coaches came up with an exciting, unique, king-sized intramural program.

Ankney, who moved here before last season from Kettering Fairmont, appeared as enthused over the new project as he would be over the prospects of an unbeaten season, including victory over arch-rival Massillon.

"What a chance this gives us for experimentation," Ankney said. "We plan to have four teams of Bulldogs—the English, Boston, French and Pit—with as near equal strength as we can make them. We'll play in Fawcett Stadium (seating capacity 19,000) five Saturday nights and one Thursday night. The first three nights we'll have intramural doubleheaders, on a round-robin basis.

"The last three will be simulated scraps with Alliance, Warren and Massillon—three of our top rivals each year. Our seniors will be welded into a team, and from our scouting reports will run the offenses and defense of the three teams against what we hope will be our 1963 varsity.

"Usually the youngsters are used to simulate the opposing teams in practice, but since our seniors will be gone by next season we'll reverse the process. We'll even try to get jerseys from the teams our seniors are emulating, and we'll invite their bands, too.

"We've sold more than $1,500 worth of tickets already, and we're just starting. I think we'll out-draw at least two of the other three schools which will be playing their usual schedules."

Ankney has some ideas for other plans, too.

He plans to have some huge cards designating plays made up for display to the fans, and let the customers designate by applause which they think should be called in some crucial spots.

He'll also experiment with the rules at times in such ways as: Putting the goal posts on the goal line.

Using the 12-man Canadian regulations.

Having the kickoff always go to the trailing team.

Playing a game by innings (ball possession series) instead of by the clock.

Holding linemen in place until punts are actually kicked.

Allowing five downs instead of four to make 10 yards.

"All our seniors have promised to come out for the full season," Ankney said. "We plan some conditioning experiments, too. We'll have one team concentrate on running, one on calisthenics, one on weight lifting, and one on a combination of the three.

"When a long run is made, we'll call it back and run it over in slow motion, explaining on the public address system just what made the play work or how the defense failed. Officials, who are donating their services, will explain all penalties or unusual rulings to the crowd. It's a great chance for the men to bring their wives—along to learn the game."

Track Stars Try Hands At Pro Football

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Old track stars never say die—they become pro football players.

Or so it would seem glancing through the rosters of the National and American Football League teams now engaged in pre-season training. There are seven of Uncle Sam's top stars during the past three years now engaged in the much rougher business of professional football, and an eighth, Charlie Tidwell of Kansas, was cut a week ago by the NFL's Minnesota Vikings.

Ted Woods, the 1960 NCAA 400-meter champion and a member of the U.S. Olympic team, became the latest to sign when he agreed to terms Monday with the San Francisco 49ers, who drafted him fifth last year.

Woods, who played at the University of Colorado, joins fellow Olympian Ray Norton on the 49ers, and UCLA track star Jim Johnson. The 49ers also had drafted Johnson's brother, Rafer, the Olympic decathlon star two years ago, but he declined the offer.

Another '60 Olympian, Glenn Davis, is with the Detroit Lions, who last year set up their "zephyr" offense to take advantage of his great speed. Davis starred at Ohio State.

The most notable graduate of the track world trying to make it in pro football, of course, is Frank Budd, co-holder of the world 100-yard dash mark of 9.2 seconds. He is a flanker back with the Philadelphia Eagles. Although he had no collegiate experience while at Villanova University, he was an all-state player for Asbury Park (N.J.) High School, performing at tailback.

Browns End Shelved By Shoulder Injury

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Bill Glass, Cleveland's brilliant defensive end, will be sidelined for about two weeks with a shoulder separation.

The 257-pounder walked around the training camp Monday with his left arm in a sling. He suffered the injury of the final defensive play Saturday in the exhibition game in Detroit against his old teammates.

Glass will miss the Browns' game against the Pittsburgh Steelers, the second contest in a pro doubleheader this Saturday which pits the Detroit Lions against the Dallas Cowboys in the opener at Municipal Stadium.

Frank Parker, rookie from Oklahoma State, was switched from defensive tackle to defensive end to help out in Glass' absence.

Salem Golfer Cards 74 In Canada Event

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—Marion Heck of Salem, Ohio, shot a three-over-par 74 in the first round of the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship on the Sunningdale Course here Monday.

Ed Meister Jr. of Willoughby, Ohio, and Arthur Hudnutt of Elyria, Ohio, shot 75s.

Leading with a 66 was Keith Rever of Saskatchewan. The field will be cut to 64 for match play starting Wednesday.

International Trot Classic Due Renewal

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—How do you go about putting together an important international horse race such as the $50,000 International Trot which will be renewed at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday night?

It started last December when the first of some 400 letters and cablegrams was dispatched to Europe to line up that continent's four best trotters. It won't end until the foreign horses are back on their native soil. In between Roosevelt will have spent around $100,000, including the $50,000 in prize money, which will be split among the five leading horses, with $25,000 to the winner.

Roosevelt officials thought they were all set with nine starters, two from the United States and one each from Italy, Germany, Belgium, France, New Zealand, Canada and Argentina. But Monday the whereabouts of the Argentine entry, Tomas Atkins, became a mystery. They learned the four-time champion of Argentina left his home in Cordoba, some 400 miles west of Buenos Aires via a chartered plane last Friday. He was due at Roosevelt Raceway Sunday.

One track official thinks the horse might have been kidnapped since there was a group within the Jockey Club of Cordoba that opposed sending Tomas Atkins to the International for fear he would be sold in the United States.

McKinley To Experiment As Ban Erases Season

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CANTON, Ohio (AP) — McKinley High School, shorn of its inter-scholastic football privileges this fall, will offer plenty of pigskin pyrotechnics despite the ban.

The Bulldogs, long a topflight power, were suspended by the state high school athletic association for using undue influence in the transfer of two students from Portsmouth to Canton. The case was carried all the way to the state Supreme Court.

When the court did not remove the ban, something had to be done about two problems: (1) loss of gate receipts which go into a common fund to finance all sports at four Canton high schools, and (2) the menace to college scholarships for outstanding senior athletes unable to put their talents on display. The Bulldog coaching staff tackled these problems.

Headed by personable Pete Ankeny, No. 1 grid mentor, the coaches came up with an exciting, unique, king-sized intramural program.

Ankeny, who moved here before last season from Kettering Fairmont, appeared as enthused over the new project as he would be over the prospects of an unbeaten season, including victory over arch-rival Massillon.

"What a chance this gives us for experimentation," Ankeny said.

"We plan to have four teams of Bulldogs—the English, Boston, French and Pit—with as near equal strength as we can make them. We'll play in Fawcett Stadium (seating capacity 19,000) five Saturday nights and one Thursday night. The first three nights we'll have intramural doubleheaders, on a round-robin basis.

"The last three will be simulated scraps with Alliance, Warren and Massillon—three of our top rivals each year. Our seniors will be welded into a team, and from our scouting reports will run the offenses and defense of the three teams against what we hope will be our 1963 varsity.

"Usually the youngsters are used to simulate the opposing teams in practice, but since our seniors will be gone by next season we'll reverse the process. We'll even try to get jerseys from the teams our seniors are emulating, and we'll invite their bands, too.

"We've sold more than $1,500 worth of tickets already, and we're just starting. I think we'll out-draw at least two of the other three schools which will be playing their usual schedules."

Ankeny has some ideas for other angles, too.

He plans to have some huge cards designating plays made up for display to the fans, and let the customers designate by applause which they think should be called in some crucial spots.

He'll also experiment with the rules at times in such ways as: Putting the goal posts on the goal line.

Using the 12-man Canadian regulations.

Having the kickoff always go to the trailing team.

possession series) instead of by the clock.

Making everyone eligible to receive passes.

Holding linemen in place until punts are actually kicked.

Allowing five downs instead of four to make 10 yards.

"All our seniors have promised to come out for the full season," Ankeny said. "We plan some conditioning experiments, too. We'll have one team concentrate on running, one on calisthenics, one on weight lifting, and one on a combination of the three.

"When a long run is made, we'll call it back and run it over in slow motion, explaining on the public address system just what made the play work or how the defense failed. Officials, who are donating their services, will explain all penalties or unusual rulings to the crowd. It's a great chance for the men to bring their wives—along to learn the game."

Moore Tapering Off For Defense Of Titles

HELSINKI (AP)—World Featherweight Champion Davey Moore of Columbus, Ohio, today swung into the last few training rounds before Friday's title defense against unranked Olli Maeki of Finland.

The hard-hitting 28-year-old veteran of 62 pro fights swung away ferociously Monday at his Finnish sparring-partner, Risto Luukonen.

International Trot Classic Due Renewal

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—How do you go about putting together an important international horse race such as the $50,000 International Trot which will be renewed at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday night?

It started last December when the first of some 400 letters and cablegrams was dispatched to Europe to line up that continent's four best trotters. It won't end until the foreign horses are back on their native soil. In between Roosevelt will have spent around $100,000, including the $50,000 in prize money, which will be split among the five leading horses, with $25,000 to the winner.

Roosevelt officials thought they were all set with nine starters, two from the United States and one each from Italy, Germany, Belgium, France, New Zealand, Canada and Argentina. But Monday the whereabouts of the Ar-

They learned the four-time champion of Argentina left his home in Cordoba, some 400 miles west of Buenos Aires via a chartered plane last Friday. He was due at Roosevelt Raceway Sunday.

One track official thinks the horse might have been kidnapped since there was a group within the Jockey Club of Cordoba that opposed sending Thomas Atkins to the International for fear he would be sold in the United States.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Should Be Prepared For School

Whether your child returns to school in the second, seventh or higher grades, or enters school for the first time, you will want him to look forward to school hopefully and with satisfaction. Some older children may try to fill your little child about to enter kindergarten or the first grade with frightful yarns, just for the fun of teasing and bullying him. If such should occur, you might be able to get the good graces of the annoying and win him to more humane ways.

In a moment of exasperation with a young child who disobeys you, you yourself might be guilty of saying, "Wait till you go to school. You will have to mind then."

NO PARENT who cares about the child's peace of mind and emotional readiness for school would be so cruel. Instead you ought to do your utmost to prepare your young child for entering school with hope and eagerness.

The parent whose child lagged at school last term or was promoted on probation may incline to warn this child that he must work harder at school or be demoted, holding a kind of sword of Damocles over his head.

A better way for this parent is to give no such warnings, but to resolve silently to find ways to help him at home, after school begins, to enjoy success at book learning.

For the child about to enter school, one of the finest things you can do between now and the opening of school is to read to him every day and to continue doing so after school begins.

IT WOULD BE wonderful for the child who can read if you could induce him to read from now till the first day of school. His seeing older members of the family constantly reading should favor his reading for pleasure also.

During the intervening days between now and the opening of school, it would be well to help your child, about to enter school for the first time, to practice feeling comfortable out of your sight and hearing; and to grow acquainted, if possible, with some children who will be his classmates.

Even in the few remaining weeks, you might enable your child to grow more self-reliant, more able to take care of his own things and to manage himself well.

My bulletins, "Self-Reliance," "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "Your Child and His Playmates," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Cora Allison, who passed away 3 years ago today (August 14th, 1959).

Today recalls memories of our dear one gone to rest and the ones who loved her best. The flowers we placed upon her grave may wither and decay, but the love for her who lies beneath will never fade away. Rejoice in death among us, and in life, grief and tears, it took our loved one from our home but never from our hearts. Ours, missed by her husband and children.

CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all the many friends and neighbors, during the recent loss of our beloved husband and father, Mr. Richard J. Plumley, a special thanks to Dr. A. K. Davidson, Rev. Irwin Jennings, Martins Funeral Home, the Liverpool Fire Dept., and their wives; police dept., Up to U Class of the First U. P. Church, Mrs. Clark Bradfield, and all the neighbors who helped through this sorrowful time. Mrs. Richard Plumley and Mrs. R. L. Plumley and family.

Some older children may try to fill your little child about to enter kindergarten or the first grade with frightful yarns, just for the fun of teasing and bullying him. If such should occur, you might be able to get the good graces of the amoy and win him to more humane ways.

In a moment of exasperation with a young child who disobeys you, you yourself might be guilty of saying, "Wait till you go to school. You will have to mind then."

ing of school is to read to him every day and to continue doing so after school begins.

IT WOULD BE wonderful for the child who can read if you could induce him to read from interesting sources every day from now till the first day of school. His seeing older members of the family constantly reading should favor his reading for pleasure also.

During the intervening days between now and the opening of school, it would be well to help your child, about to enter school for the first time, to practice feeling comfortable out of your sight and hearing; and to grow acquainted, if possible, with some children who will be his classmates.

Even in the few remaining weeks, you might enable your child to grow more self-reliant, more able to take care of his own things and to manage himself well.

My bulletins, "Self-Reliance," "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "Your Child and His Playmates," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

NO PARENT who cares about the child's peace of mind and emotional readiness for school would be so cruel. Instead you ought to do your utmost to prepare your young child for entering school with hope and eagerness.

The parent whose child lagged at school last term or was promoted on probation may incline to warn this child that he must work harder at school or be demoted, holding a kind of sword of Damocles over his head.

A better way for this parent is to give no such warnings, but to resolve silently to find ways to help him at home, after school begins, to enjoy success at book learning.

For the child about to enter school, one of the finest things you can do between now and the open-

Sen. Goldwater Lampooned In Skit At Dinner

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater watched himself being lampooned by the Circus Sights and Sinners, then came out four-square for the practice of poking fun at politicians.

"I don't know what I'd do without the Kennedy boys," the Arizona Republican said Monday night at a dinner of the Atlantic City chapter of the organization of circus men and big-top buffs.

Goldwater, as fall guy for the evening, was treated to a skit that pictured him as president of the United States—a job for which he is often mentioned as a candidate.

Goldwater demonstrated his own brand of political fun-poking by drawing a bead on Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the President's brother.

"You get an invitation to his house, it's black tie and snorkel," Goldwater said.

The actor portraying Goldwater said that he liked the White House very much. "Jackie Kennedy did it all over in 18th century style. That's right up my alley."

Britain Begins 2nd Flying Ferry Service

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP)—Britain's second ferry service by Hovercraft—a flying boat that supports itself on a cushion of air—has opened between this south England port and the Isle of Wight.

The fare is 10 shillings—$1.40—for the 10-minute, 5-mile crossing which is three times as expensive as the ordinary ferry, but the service is three times as fast.

The first Hovercraft ferry began operations in Wales last month.

'Suicide Lane' Closed On Cleveland Artery

CLEVELAND (AP)—Home-bound motorists on the West Shoreway today will find three lanes of traffic in each direction for the first time in 14 years.

Mayor Ralph S. Locher Monday ordered the closing of what motorists call "suicide lane." Home-bound traffic has been allowed to use the inside lane on the east side of the shoreway since 1948.

Locher's action stems from a head-on collision July 9 that killed a Mentor man.

He also ordered the Cleveland Transit System to remove its two bus stops from the West Shoreway for safety reasons.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Cora Allison, who passed away 3 years ago today (August 14th, 1959). Today recalls memories of our dear one gone to rest and the ones who think of her today are the ones who loved her best. The flowers we placed upon her grave may wither and decay, but the love for her who lies beneath will never fade away. Relentless death cannot destroy our love and grief intensifies it. We miss her from our home but never from our hearts. Sadly missed by her husband and children.

CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all the many friends and neighbors, during the recent loss of our beloved husband and father, Fireman Richard J. Plumley. A special thanks to Dr. A. K. Davidson, Rev. Irwin Jennings, Martins Funeral Home, the Liverpool Fire Dept., and their wives; police dept., Up to U Class of the First U. P. Church, Mrs. Clark Bradford, and all the neighbors of Prospect, St. Northside Station, Bloomfield, and Sunny-side. There are too many to name each one, but "Thank you" to each citizen who helped through this sorrowful time. Mrs. Richard Plumley and family. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Plumley and family.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, Aug. 14, the 226th day of 1962.

There are 139 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1936, President Roosevelt announced that his foreign policy would be based on the maintenance of peace and neutrality, regardless of any pressure that might be exerted at home or from abroad.

On this date: In 1775, Maj. Thomas Mifflin began serving as the first quartermaster of the Continental Army.

In 1848, Oregon formally was organized as a territory.

In 1919, the first air-mail delivery was made to a steamer at sea.

In 1935, President Roosevelt signed the Social Security Act.

In 1945, Japan announced its unconditional surrender to the Allies in World War II.

Today's birthdays: Operatic tenor Ferruccio Tagliavanni is 49. Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam is 71.

Thought for today: The history of the world is none other than the progress of the consciousness of freedom—Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel.

Odd Facts

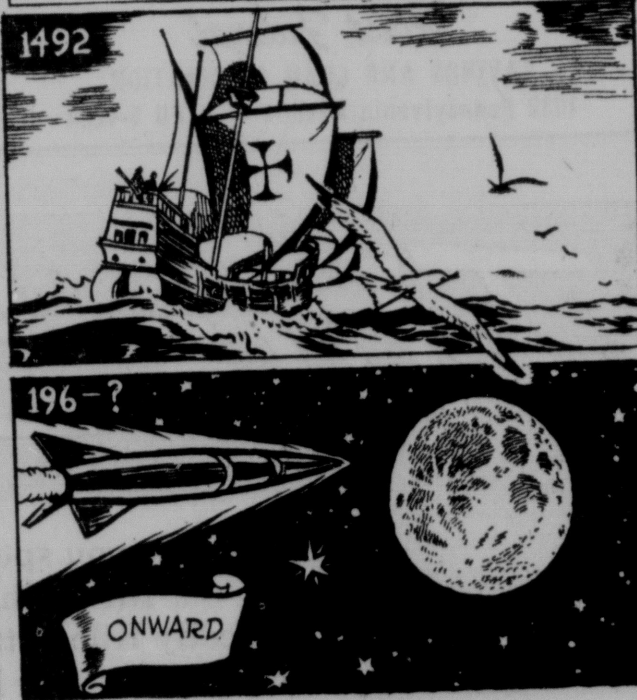

The long, narrow coastland of Peru is a desert, broken only by irrigated valleys of Andean streams flowing to the Pacific. Ports, main cities and cotton and sugar plantations are found there.

In 1790, when the nation's first census was taken, only one in 20 persons lived in urban places. In 1960 only one in 13 persons lived on farms.

Great mountain ranges, rising to peaks of 20,000 feet, form a massive central barrier in Peru, extending north and south through the country's 1,400-mile length.

Small industrial plants flourish from Alexandria to Aswan, Egypt. Among other things, they make refrigerators, transistor radios and automatic washing machines.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPACE

QUESTION: Why do people want to go to the moon?

ANSWER: Most people thought Columbus was a fool to try to sail across the unknown ocean, and the spirit of enterprise and adventure drove him on and knowledge of a new world was the result. Columbus did not know what he would find over the horizon, and neither do we know what we will find on the moon. There are certain useful things most Americans think we will gain by landing on the moon. First, of course, is knowledge about space; if a landing on the moon can be made, we should be able to press on to Venus and Mars. It may be possible, from the moon, to make weather observations of great value about our own planet, and also to relay or transfer electric signals from one part of the earth to another. There may be very valuable minerals on the moon. A station there might have military importance. A moon shot would lead us toward the exploration of the other planets. There may be many other reasons, which we'll have to go to the moon to find!

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to find someone who has a telescope strong enough to show the mountains on the moon and ask him to let you take a look. While looking at it, try to imagine what's really there.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, Aug. 14, the 226th day of 1962.
There are 139 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this day in 1936, President Roosevelt announced that his foreign policy would be based on the maintenance of peace and neutrality, regardless of any pressure that might be exerted at home or from abroad.

On this date:
In 1775, Maj. Thomas Mifflin began serving as the first quartermaster of the Continental Army.

In 1848, Oregon formally was organized as a territory.

In 1919, the first air-mail delivery was made to a steamer at sea.

In 1935, President Roosevelt signed the Social Security Act.

In 1945, Japan announced its unconditional surrender to the Allies in World War II.

Today's birthdays:
Operatic tenor Ferruccio Tagliavanni is 49. Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam is 71.

Thought for today:
The history of the world is none other than the progress of the consciousness of freedom—Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel.

Odd Facts

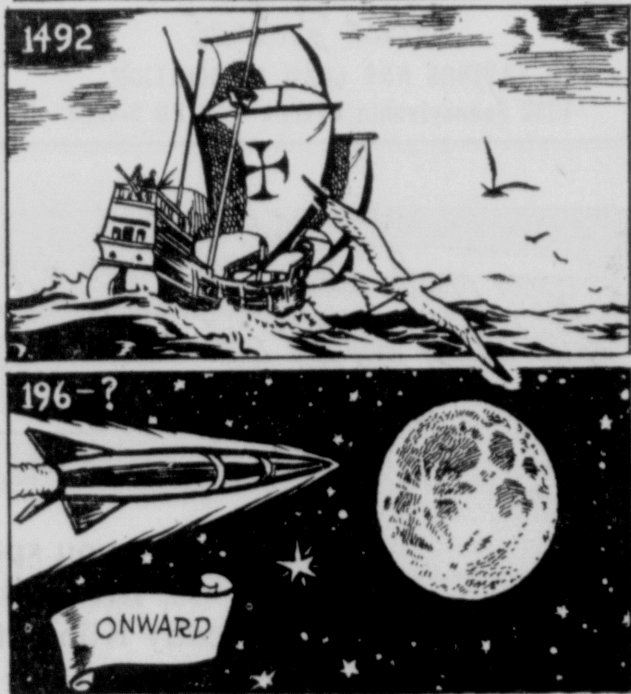

The long, narrow coastland of Peru is a desert, broken only by irrigated valleys of Andean streams flowing to the Pacific. Ports, main cities and cotton and sugar plantations are found there.

In 1790, when the nation's first census was taken, only one in 20 persons lived in urban places. In 1960 only one in 13 persons lived on farms.

Great mountain ranges, rising to peaks of 20,000 feet, form a massive central barrier in Peru, extending north and south throughout the country's 1,400-mile length.

Small industrial plants flourish from Alexandria to Aswan, Egypt. Among other things, they make refrigerators, transistor radios and automatic washing machines.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPACE

QUESTION: Why do people want to go to the moon?

ANSWER: Most people thought Columbus was a fool to try to sail across the unknown ocean, but the spirit of enterprise and adventure drove him on and knowledge of a new world was the result. Columbus did not know what he would find over the horizon, and neither do we know what we will find on the moon. There are certain useful things most Americans think we will gain by landing on the moon. First, of course, is knowledge about space; if a landing on the moon can be made, we should be able to press on to Venus and Mars. It may be possible, from the moon, to make weather observations of great value about our own planet, and also to relay or transfer electric signals from one part of the earth to another. There may be very valuable minerals on the moon. A station there might have military importance. A moon shot would lead us toward the exploration of the other planets. There may be many other reasons, which we'll have to go to the moon to find!

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to find someone who has a telescope strong enough to show the mountains on the moon and ask him to let you take a look. While looking at it, try to imagine what's really there.

New TV Season Is Greatest—Again!

The news is too good to hold any longer. Television during the coming season will be sensational, absolutely! Just ask anyone around the TV studios. They will tell you. These are the happy few weeks when optimism runs so high it gets almost sickening. Nobody has to worry about ratings because the new shows aren't on the air. Sponsors are happy, too. No irate viewers are able yet to write them and say, "I'll never buy another of your soaping pads after watching your lousy show the other night."

EVERY TV PRODUCER is a genius at this point. They all sit in darkened projection rooms around Hollywood looking at their new films and deciding the results are even more fabulous than they first had suspected.

Four press agents (one for each sponsor, one for the network and one for the studio) recently previewed the first episode of "Ensign O'Toole," and to a man they agreed it was the most fabulous comedy ever to reach TV.

Feeling gets to running so high that occasionally the producer and press agent are swept into revealing their epic prematurely, as happened with Bob Cummings and CBS a year ago. TV editors and columnists were flown into Palm Springs from all around the country for a weekend of wassail and viewing Bob's new TV series.

DESPITE WHAT all agreed was a marvelous weekend (plus a lecture on positive thinking from Bob), the previewed episode was a big nothing. The series folded before the end of the season.

One must admit that CBS is game, though. You've already read, no doubt, that it put Jackie Gleason on his own private train here last week with a bevy of "Glee Girls." Max Kaminsky's Dixieland Band and several cases of firewater for a cross-country publicity jaunt.

If Jackie hasn't been grounded by gout or cirrhosis of the liver, "The Great Gleason Express" should be nearing New York about now and a final whing-ding at Toots Shor's pub.

This time CBS wasn't foolish enough to put anything on film. Big Jackie won't tape his first show until shortly before the Sept. 29 premiere. His personal press agent, Pete McGovern, assures everyone, however, that Jackie's return to TV will be sensational.

"THERE'S GOING to be a lot of topical stuff in it. For example, if Jackie had been on when the Billie Sol Estes thing broke, he would have had his Ralph Kramden character playing a grain salesman," McGovern explains.

Hal Humphrey

Pete naturally didn't bring up the sordid fact that Jackie's last two TV shows (one in 1958 with Buddy Hackett and the "You're in the Picture" game show in 1961) both bombed miserably. After all, as mentioned before, this is TV's happy season. Why bring up the awful past?

Word just came through that next week the producers of "Empire," another new epic series for NBC, are hosting a big banquet and preview at Santa Fe, N.M., where the series is being filmed. Press and dignitaries will be flown into the town and several fatted calves will be barbecued.

ALONG ABOUT the end of September, all of this gay interstate socializing will come to a sudden halt, and the once-convivial TV producers will be pacing their offices as they wait grimly for the first Nielsen rating book to tell them if their shows have a chance for survival.

Meanwhile, they will be getting in the reviews of the TV critics and starting to kick themselves for spending all that moolah for a press junket.

If, for example, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans (on NBC opposite Jackie this season) get better notices and a bigger rating, won't Jackie's sponsors and CBS wonder why they didn't spend the $80,000 train budget on producing a pilot film about a singing cowboy with a comely wife and a trick horse?

6 Other Proposals Okayed

Ohio Board Defers Move On School Funds Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Board of Education has deferred action until its October meeting on a complex financial plan designed to boost state aid to school districts.

But the board gave immediate approval at its meeting Monday to six other proposals offered by its legislative committee.

The financial plan, outlined by Edward C. Ames of Toledo, chairman of the legislative group, calls for upward revision in factors used to determine the amount of state aid to districts. Ames said the formula would result in increased funds for every district in the state.

Ames told the board the committee is greatly concerned over decreases in the state's share of operating public schools. He said the amount has dropped from 47 per cent in 1947 to 31 per cent at present.

The proposals winning the board's endorsement included state aid to cover excess costs in classes for gifted children, $30 million in the next biennium to aid needy districts in classroom construction, and state aid estimated at $250,000 a year to reimburse local boards for transportation of slow-learning children.

Prior to the board's regular meeting, 16 persons testified at a three-hour hearing on a plan to end Ohio's cadet teacher training program. Some opposition was expressed although the majority of the testimony was favorable.

Among those opposing the plan, which would require all elementary teachers in Ohio to have four-year college degrees no later than 1968, were representatives of certain parochial schools.

Two Ohio County superintendents, Robert Longworth of Carroll County and W. E. Weagly of Erie County, urged that the program be retained.

The board received a report from Instruction Supt. E. E. Holt which said the cost of educating a public school student in Ohio rose to near the dollar-a-day level in 1960-61. Holt said this is a "terrific bargain" in view of what all is involved in public education.

He said the actual cost per student in 1960-61 was $355.05, up $24.38 from the previous school year.

In other action the board: Disapproved transfers of school territory from Cleveland to Lakewood and from Mount Healthy to Finneytown, Hamilton County. Approved transfer of territory valued at $239,680 and involving 16 pupils from Union-Scioto, Ross County, to Chillicothe.

Man Is Committed In Extortion Attempt

CLEVELAND (AP) — John W. Marcoguissepe, 22, of Parma, alleged ringleader in an extortion attempt, has been committed to Lima State Hospital "until he is restored to sanity."

He was committed Monday by Common Pleas Court Judge J. J. P. Corrigan after the County Psychiatric Clinic found him to be psychopathic. He will be tried after he is released from the hospital. Marcoguissepe is charged with attempting to extort $2,000 from six employees of Mohawk Motor, Inc., last March. One of the men had a shotgun blast fired at him.

Secret To Quit State Post For Bid To Congress

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Robert T. Secrest says he will resign as Ohio's director of commerce at the end of the month to run for Congress from the 15th District on the Democratic ticket.

The former member of the Federal Trade Commission announced his plans Monday night at a meeting of Democratic chairman from the seven-county district in Southeastern Ohio. Secrest previously held the seat for eight terms.

William W. Rider of Marietta had been nominated for the congressional post in the May primary. He withdrew Saturday, bringing about the opening on the ballot. The county committeemen met here Monday night to choose a successor.

The 58-year-old Democrat will oppose Republican incumbent Tom V. Moorehead, 64, of Zanesville.

The 15th District comprises Muskingum, Guernsey, Perry, Noble, Monroe, Washington and Morgan counties.

Pair Bound Over In Traffic Death

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Two men accused in the traffic death of Richard John Krumm, 14, of Dayton, Ohio, have been held over to the Knox County grand jury.

Wendell D. Loveday, 19, and Boyd McNabb Jr., 37, are charged with second-degree murder in the July 7 death of the youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Krumm. Police identified Loveday as the driver of a vehicle which struck the Krumm's car from the rear on an expressway here. Officers said McNabb was the owner of the vehicle.

Shampoo Concoction Kills Italian Woman

SAN SEVERO, Italy (AP)—Soccorso Bidetti, 26, died of brain damage Monday after washing her hair with a shampoo she concocted of insecticide for fruit trees.

Police said the young woman became lightheaded, then complained of severe headache a few hours after massaging her scalp with the mixture.

Man Is Committed In Extortion Attempt

CLEVELAND (AP)—John W. Marcoguissepe, 22, of Parma, alleged ringleader in an extortion attempt, has been committed to Lima State Hospital "until he is restored to sanity."

He was committed Monday by Common Pleas Court Judge J. J. P. Corrigan after the County Psychiatric Clinic found him to be psychopathic. He will be tried after he is released from the hospital. Marcoguissepe is charged with attempting to extort $2,000 from six employees of Mohawk Motor, Inc., last March. One of the men had a shotgun blast fired at him.
